Eisenhower 'Holding His Own'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, 77, fighting anew against a major heart attack—and apparently holding his own so far—today passed at least the half-way mark in the three-to-four days doctors consider the most critical.

The five-star general was stricken around 9 p.m. EDT Saturday at Walter Reed Army Hospital with what his doctors termed "another major heart attack"—the latest of five cardiac assaults, both major and minor, he has suffered since September 1955.

And it occurred while he was walking about in his ward, apparently on the road to complete recovery from a "mild" heart attack he suffered less than two months ago while vacationing in California.

The latest word on his condition came around 10 a.m. EDT Monday when his doctors said in answer to a series of written questions submitted by The Associated Press that:

"The early period following any heart attack is the most critical. The general's response so far has been favorable."

In a formal medical bulletin issued just prior to the release of answers to the AP's queries, the doctors said Eisenhower had remained "comfortable during the past 24 hours" and that "there has been no further recurrence of pain since the initial episode the night of June 15. No signs of heart failure have appeared."

Although the Walter Reed doctors did not immediately define the duration of the early period they said it "most critical" following any heart attack, doctors at March Air Force Base, Calif., where Eisenhower initially was treated for his April 29 attack, said at that time:

"The most critical period for any patient with a heart attack is during the first three to four days. The danger progressively diminishes during the subsequent weeks, through the period of convalescence."

France's Auto Workers Lead Return To Jobs

PARIS (AP) — Thousands more French strikers headed back to work today, led by the 65,000 workers at Renault auto plants who voted overwhelmingly to accept a settlement worked out by their union leaders.

The return to the Renault strikers plus 10,000 at the Saclay truck plant in Lyon and about 30,000 shipyard workers at St. Nazaire, Bordeaux and La Seyne left less than 250,000 of the 10-million strikers still out, according to union estimates.

The major holdouts were the personnel of the government radio and television network. Those strikers on Monday rejected new proposals by Information Minister Yves Guena.

The central issue was the strikers' demand for a government pledge to seek parliamentary action insuring freedom of the network's news programs from government control.

Guena offered only to set up a "commission of notables" to work out new legislation.

The radio-TV strike has reduced campaigning via those media for the National Assembly elections to a few news bulletins and brief TV appearances by party leaders.

Premier Georges Pompidou was to defend the government's record in a broadcast to the nation tonight. It may be his last before the first-round balloting Sunday.

Meanwhile, strong criticism was heard against the police occupation Sunday of the Sorbonne, the main building of the University of Paris and the symbol of the student revolt. Sorbonne teachers, students and administrative personnel announced they would have nothing further to do with the university as long as the police remained there. A number of newspapers also condemned the government's action.

Rebellious University of Paris students were still occupying the faculties of medicine and science and the schools of fine arts and political science, but they said they expected police moves to dislodge them at any time. They would not say whether they planned to resist or would go quietly, as the Sorbonne students did.

Kelley Rules May Have Conflict Of Interest At MSU

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley today ruled a Michigan State University vice president in conflict of interest because of outside business interests.

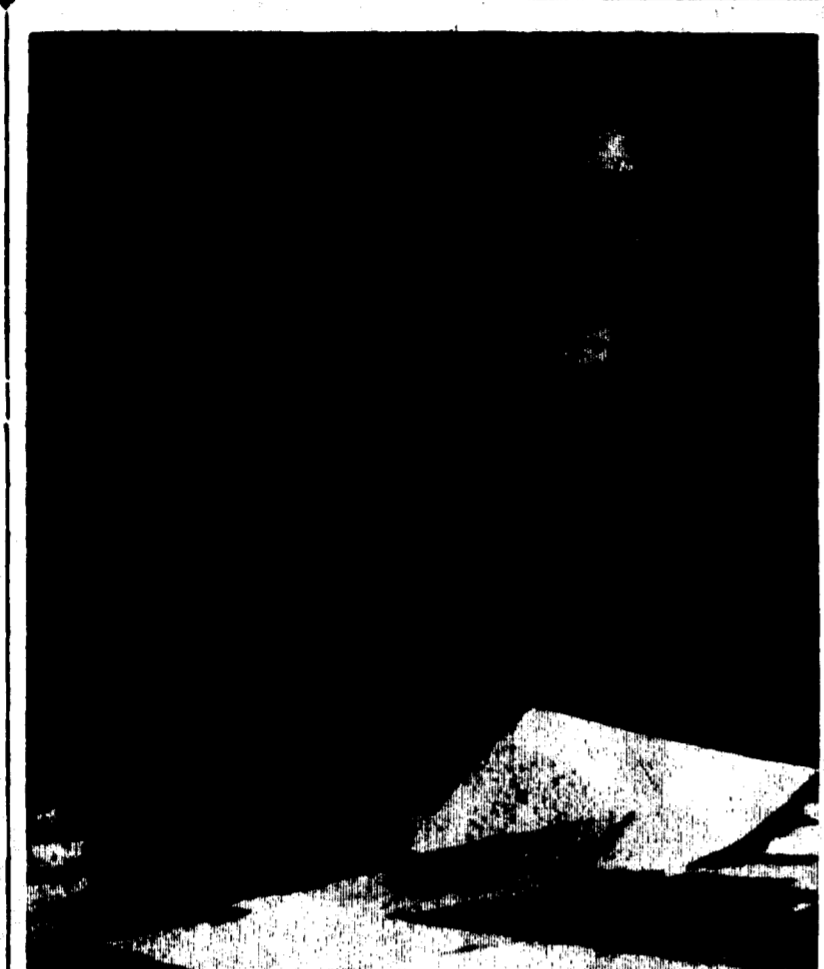

Kelley ruled the conflict exists between the private holdings and public responsibility of Philip J. May, MSU vice president for business and finance.

The opinion cited May's interest in transactions relating to the IBM Building in East Lansing.

Police Dogs Join Child Search On Drummond Island

DRUMMOND ISLAND (AP) — State police dogs have joined the search for a 23-month-old boy missing since Sunday on bear-infested Drummond Island, off the eastern tip of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

The child is Martin Gibbons Jr., of Detroit who came to the island with his mother for the funeral of her father, Charles Toivola, a week earlier.

The search continued today with a state police dog unit headed by Sgt. Richard Abbott joining volunteers and other authorities.

Authorities, who began searching after the child's disappearance was reported Sunday afternoon, leaned today toward a theory that Martin might have been picked up and taken away by some child-hungry tourist visiting the island over the weekend.

The only bear tracks found in the vicinity in which the child disappeared were described as old and authorities discounted speculation that he might have been harmed by animals.

Police dogs were unable to follow the child's tracks, apparently because so many persons already had been over the area when they were brought in.

More than 200 volunteer airmen from Kincheloe Air Force Base, outside Sault Ste. Marie, cooperated in the search Monday. They made a shoulder-to-shoulder sweep of an area two miles wide and a mile deep along Warner's Cove Road.

Martin and his mother were staying with her cousin, Leland Busha, along a little traveled side road when the child disappeared.

Mrs. Gibbons' father died a week ago last Sunday, and on the day of his funeral, Tuesday, she gave birth to her fifth child, also a boy. She had been in bed since that event.

The boy's father, Martin, 23, remained at work in Detroit when his 22-year-old wife came here for her father's funeral.

Big Three Pledge Help Against Any Nuclear Threats

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union, the United States and Britain were on record today with pledges to rally the U.N. Security Council against any nuclear threat to a nation that has renounced nuclear weapons.

Canada, Denmark, Paraguay, Hungary and Senegal were expected to react favorably to the pledges of aid to nonnuclear countries which sign the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

They were among 10 council members counted upon to vote for a Big Three resolution welcoming the guarantee from the three nuclear powers. The 10-vote expected Wednesday, would be one more than needed to pass the resolution. The other five council members—France, Brazil, Algeria, India and Pakistan—were expected to abstain.

Dodd Panel To Consider Guns Mail Ban Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — After more than a week of public debate sparked by the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, a Senate subcommittee plans to consider a new bill to ban the mail order sale of rifles and shotguns.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., said he hopes his subcommittee on juvenile delinquency could take some action today. Whatever it does will be subject to review by the parent Judiciary Committee at a meeting set for Wednesday.

Both meetings come before the Wednesday midnight deadline for President Johnson to sign, veto or ignore the omnibus crime control bill and its gun control section now on his desk.

If he takes no action on the measure, rushed through Senate and House within two days of the June 5 pistol attack on Kennedy, it will become law.

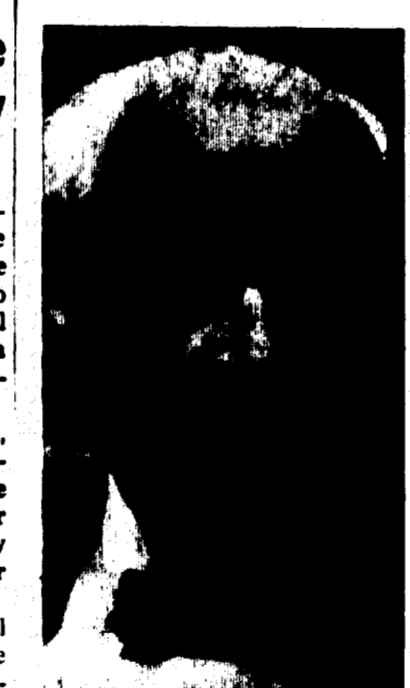

Johnson has criticized the gun control provision—which bans only the mail order sale of pistols—as too weak and has urged quick action on the bill before Dodd's subcommittee.

Sponsored by 28 senators and introduced last week, it would ban the sale of shoulder weapons through the mail and to juveniles and nonresidents of a state.

Dodd also has offered a bill providing compulsory federal registration of all firearms and prohibiting sale of ammunition to anyone unable to furnish proof that his firearm is registered.

The even stricter measure has been offered by Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md. It not only would require the registration of all firearms but a license for their purchase or possession.

The states would be given a chance to enact their own registration and licensing laws under Tydings' bill, but the proposed federal legislation would control in states that failed to act.

Soapy Gets Mixed Press Welcome In Philippines

MANILA (AP) — U.S. Ambassador G. Mennen Williams, in the Philippines only two days, already has been attacked, warned, welcomed, praised and advised by Manila's press.

On arrival Saturday, Williams said his first concern was "to get to know the Philippines and the Filipinos," and described the American-Filipino relationship as one of two great independent nations sharing mutual ideals and objectives.

The Philippines Herald, said in a Monday editorial that Williams' first remark "certainly made a favorable, lasting impression on the Filipino people," and called him "best compliment." The Evening News also said he is "off to a good start." In the Daily Mirror, however, columnist Amanda Doronilla wrote that "the first impression that the new U.S. ambassador has given from his airport statement is that he is a product of public relations gimmickry, a masterpiece of American creation." He is talking down to our people."

Sunday Times columnist Max Soliven wrote that he noticed

"Williams talks too much like a Filipino politician."

The Manila Bulletin said Williams' arrival remarks were "like putting your best foot forward." The paper said it hoped Williams "will not follow the example of some of his compatriots who had likewise put their best foot forward on arrival, only to put it in their mouth afterward."

The U.S. Ambassador post had been vacant since last September when William McCormick Blair Jr. resigned after three years in the post.

He was a top-ranked congressman who launched a "go-home-Blaiz" campaign.

121 Reds Surrender To South Vietnam Marines

SAIGON (AP) — The largest mass surrender of the war took place today when 121 enemy soldiers gave themselves up to South Vietnamese marines on the outskirts of Saigon.

Pleading for the marines not to shoot, the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars emerged from bunkers in Gia Dinh suburb and turned over 50 rifles and six larger weapons.

There were these other developments in the war:

—The U.S. Command said it had received reports of more North Vietnamese helicopters operating around the demilitarized zone Monday night. No additional information was given, but other sources said as many as 10 to 20 enemy choppers had been spotted on radar.

—The U.S. Command still refused to confirm or deny reports that somewhere between two and 12 of the Russian-designed enemy helicopters had been downed by artillery and U.S. warplanes in and near the DMZ Saturday and Sunday nights.

—A Communist MIG21 shot down a U.S. Navy Phantom jet on Sunday over the North Vietnamese panhandle, the U.S. Command said. The two fliers are missing.

GOP Delegates Quiz Nixon Next Week In Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Former Vice President Richard Nixon will meet in private with Michigan delegates to the Republican National Convention on June 26, Gov. George Romney announced Monday.

Nixon originally was scheduled to meet with the delegation June 7, but the meeting was postponed because of the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

"We're looking forward to the meeting with Nixon to get his views on the major issues confronting our nation and as a result to assist us as a delegation in determining our support of one of the presidential candidates at the August convention," Romney said.

The delegation met behind closed doors with New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller on May 25.

Like Rockefeller, Nixon will be asked his views on matters relating to Vietnam, the urban crisis, inflation and the black revolution.

ALPENA (AP) — State Rep. Joseph P. Swallow, R-Alpena, announced Monday he will seek re-election to the Michigan House this year from the 16th District. He is an Alpena lawyer and former Alpena County prosecutor.

Seaway Study Force Formed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. William Proxmire and Philip A. Hart said today that a special transportation department task force has been formed to study the over all operation of the St. Lawrence Seaway Corp.

Proxmire, D-Wis., is chairman and Hart, D-Mich., is vice chairman of the Great Lakes Conference of Senators, which has been pressing the department to pay more attention to the seaway operation.

The task force is to be headed by Cecil Mackey, the department's assistant secretary for policy development. The task force is due to submit a report in December.

"Hopefully," the senators said in a statement, "this is a sign that the problems of the seaway are going to get more front office attention. And from the standpoint of the Great Lakes states, that is all to the good."

The new governor of Saigon, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, said he expected new Viet Cong infantry attacks on the capital soon but doubted the enemy would carry out the 100-round-a-day rocket shelling it had threatened would start this week.

"Experience has shown us that the Communists never do what they say they will do," he told a news conference. "Expect them to do what they don't say."

For the second straight day, no rockets hit Saigon.

Minh, former commander of an infantry division in the Mekong Delta, said he believed the Viet Cong attack Saigon for two reasons. "The first is to establish their infrastructure, the second to create an anxiety state among the population," he said.

Ray Extradition Hearing June 27

LONDON (AP) — A British magistrate today scheduled a hearing on June 27 on the U.S. government's application to return James Earl Ray to Tennessee for trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Ray's British attorney, Roger Frisby, indicated in Bow Street Magistrate's Court that the 40-year-old escaped convict would fight extradition. The lawyer asked Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton for as much time as possible to prepare his case.

Milton said he wanted to hold the hearing as soon as possible, and they compromised on Thursday of next week.

British extradition hearings usually last a day or two, and the magistrate generally gives his decision as soon as he hears all the evidence.

Ray was brought to Bow Street today for the second time since his arrest 16 days ago.

The U.S. Command announced that Sparrow missile from a U.S. warplane apparently hit the Australian destroyer Hobart early Monday, killing two crewmen and injuring seven. Like the Swift boat that was sunk, the Hobart also was cruising off the DMZ at a time when enemy helicopter activity was reported.

The surrender in Gia Dinh came in response to loudspeaker broadcasts by South Vietnamese marines who had surrounded the holdouts near a pagoda three miles north of South Vietnam's presidential palace.

The soldiers came out in groups over a period of about an hour. Most were north Vietnamese, most carried weapons and most were wounded.

The new governor of Saigon, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, said he expected new Viet Cong infantry attacks on the capital soon but doubted the enemy would carry out the 100-round-a-day rocket shelling it had threatened would start this week.

"Experience has shown us that the Communists never do what they say they will do," he told a news conference. "Expect them to do what they don't say."

For the second straight day, no rockets hit Saigon.

Minh, former commander of an infantry division in the Mekong Delta, said he believed the Viet Cong attack Saigon for two reasons. "The first is to establish their infrastructure, the second to create an anxiety state among the population," he said.

The magistrate ordered him returned to Wandsworth Prison. Two attorneys from Birmingham, Ala., Arthur J. Hanes and his son, Arthur Jr., are expected in London Wednesday to assist Ray's British attorney.

The hearing today was the customary two-minute session when a court has decided on a postponement.

Ray, wearing a blue checked suit and glasses, sat impassively in the dock while attorneys and the magistrate discussed details.

Attorneys for the U.S. government told the magistrate that Ray is wanted on a charge of murdering Dr. King in Memphis April 4 and also on a charge of escaping from Missouri State Prison while serving an armed robbery sentence.

Documentary evidence already has been produced in London, the American lawyers told the court, and a fingerprint expert will be flown over to testify at the extradition hearing.

Asks If Veep Really Dissents From LBJ Stand

By The Associated Press
Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, wrapping up his New York primary campaign—says Democratic presidential rival Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey should make public any private doubts on the Vietnam war.

"I think everyone has private doubts," McCarthy said at a Harlem rally Monday. "There comes a time when the private doubts of a public man must become public doubts."

He referred to a prediction by former White House press secretary Bill Moyers that Humphrey soon will begin spelling out his differences with Johnson administration policies including escalation of the war.

But a Humphrey spokesman said in Washington "the vice president does not follow the practice of thinking one thing in private and saying another thing in public."

"He intends to discuss all the issues that are vital to this country just as he has been discussing such issues throughout his public life," the spokesman said.

"Step Feet Dragging"
On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon called on President Johnson to stop "dragging his feet" and sign the anticrime bill. And New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took his hunt for delegates to Capitol Hill in Washington.

McCarthy was the only major presidential candidate to campaign on behalf of delegate states in final days before the New York primary today which will name 123 Democratic and 82 Republican delegates.

Most delegates pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy before he was assassinated say they hope to be elected as supporters of his principles—and uncommitted to any other candidate.

Fewell Favored
Kennedy had been expected to take the lion's share of the delegates and few observers were predicting today's results.

Rockefeller candidates are opposed by Nixon supporters for only 11 of the 82 GOP delegate seats at stake.

Adam Clayton Powell, denied seating in the U.S. House of Representatives last year, was favored to win a nomination for re-election.

Three Democrats seek the U.S. Senate nomination to oppose Republican incumbent Sen. Jacob K. Javits. They are Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick; Eugene H. Nickerson, a Kennedy man, and former New York Councilman Paul O'Dwyer.

Rocky in Washington
While New Yorkers voted in the primary, Rockefeller was on Capitol Hill seeking delegates and hoping to convince Republicans up for re-election that he would help them more as the party's presidential candidate than would Nixon.

Some 50 GOP representatives and 21 senators will be delegates, and five senators head their state delegations as favorite-son candidates.

Nixon, in urging Johnson to sign the anticrime bill, said in a statement it is clear Congress is ready to debate a more stringent gun control law, but in the meantime the President should sign the bill which Nixon said "has 90 per cent" of the gun control features Johnson asked.

"Southern Power"
Third party presidential candidate George Wallace, campaigning in Richmond, Va., urged a new slogan—"Southern Power"—saying the South has started a movement "which is going to change the trends in this country."

In other political developments:
—Rep. Peter N. Kyros, D-Maine, and Republican state Sen. Horace Hildreth Jr. won nomination in a Maine primary Monday to oppose each other for Congress. Actor Gary Merrill and former state Rep. David L. Graham were last in the two three-way races.

—Michigan Gov. George Romney announced Nixon will meet with the state's convention delegation June 26.

—Gov. John A. Volpe indicated he believes Massachusetts' GOP delegates will split after their commitment to vote for Rockefeller on the first national convention ballot.

"Hopefully," the senators said in a statement, "this is a sign that the problems of the seaway are going to get more front-office attention. And from the standpoint of the Great Lakes states, that is all to the good."

Ray Extradition Hearing June 27

LONDON (AP) — A British magistrate today scheduled a hearing on June 27 on the U.S. government's application to return James Earl Ray to Tennessee for trial on a charge of murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Ray's British attorney, Roger Frisby, indicated in Bow Street Magistrate's Court that the 40-year-old escaped convict would fight extradition. The lawyer asked Chief Metropolitan Magistrate Frank Milton for as much time as possible to prepare his case.

Milton said he wanted to hold the hearing as soon as possible, and they compromised on Thursday of next week.

British extradition hearings usually last a day or two, and the magistrate generally gives his decision as soon as he hears all the evidence.

Ray was brought to Bow Street today for the second time since his arrest 10 days ago.

The U.S. Command announced that Sparrow missile from a U.S. warplane apparently hit the Australian destroyer Hobart early Monday, killing two crewmen and injuring seven. Like the Swift boat that was sunk, the Hobart also was cruising off the DMZ at a time when enemy helicopter activity was reported.

The surrender in Gia Dinh came in response to loudspeaker broadcasts by South Vietnamese marines who had surrounded the holdouts near a pagoda three miles north of South Vietnam's presidential palace.

The soldiers came out in groups over a period of about an hour. Most were north Vietnamese, most carried weapons and most were wounded.

Predicts Attack

The new governor of Saigon, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, said he expected new Viet Cong infantry attacks on the capital soon but doubted the enemy would carry out the 100-round-a-day rocket shelling it had threatened would start this week.

"Experience has shown us that the Communists never do what they say they will do," he told a news conference. "Expect them to do what they don't say."

For the second straight day, no rockets hit Saigon.

Minh, former commander of an infantry division in the Mekong Delta, said he believed the Viet Cong attack Saigon for two reasons. "The first is to establish their infrastructure, the second to create an anxiety state among the population," he said.

Asks If Veep Really Dissents From LBJ Stand

By The Associated Press
Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, wrapping up his New York primary campaign—says Democratic presidential rival Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey should make public any private doubts on the Vietnam war.

"I think everyone has private doubts," McCarthy said at a Harlem rally Monday. "There comes a time when the private doubts of a public man must become public doubts."

He referred to a prediction by former White House press secretary Bill Moyers that Humphrey soon will begin spelling out his differences with Johnson administration policies including escalation of the war.

But a Humphrey spokesman said in Washington "the vice president does not follow the practice of thinking one thing in private and saying another thing in public."

"He intends to discuss all the issues that are vital to this country just as he has been discussing such issues throughout his public life," the spokesman said.

"Stop Foot Dragging"
On the Republican side, Richard M. Nixon called on President Johnson to stop "dragging his feet" and sign the anticrime bill. And New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller took his hunt for delegates to Capitol Hill in Washington.

McCarthy was the only major presidential candidate to campaign on behalf of delegate states in final days before the New York primary today which will name 123 Democratic and 82 Republican delegates.

Most delegates pledged to Sen. Robert F. Kennedy before he was assassinated say they hope to be elected as supporters of his principles—and uncommitted to any other candidate.

Powell Favored
Kennedy had been expected to take the lion's share of the delegates and few observers were predicting today's results.

Rockefeller candidates are opposed by Nixon supporters for only 11 of the 82 GOP delegate seats at stake.

Adam Clayton Powell, denied seating in the U.S. House of Representatives last year, was favored to win a nomination for re-election.

Three Democrats seek the U.S. Senate nomination to oppose Republican incumbent Sen. Jacob K. Javits. They are Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick; Eugene H. Nickerson, a Kennedy man, and former New York Councilman Paul O'Dwyer.

Rocky In Washington

While New Yorkers voted in the primary, Rockefeller was on Capitol Hill seeking delegates and hoping to convince Republicans up for re-election that he would help them more as the party's presidential candidate than would Nixon.

Some 50 GOP representatives and 21 senators will be delegates, and five senators head their state delegations as favorite-son candidates.

Nixon, in urging Johnson to sign the anticrime bill, said in a statement it is clear Congress is ready to debate a more stringent gun control law, but in the meantime the President should sign the bill which Nixon said "has 90 per cent" of the gun control features Johnson asked.

"Southern Power"
Third party presidential candidate George Wallace, campaigning in Richmond, Va., urged a new slogan—"Southern Power"—saying the South has started a movement "which is going to change the trends in this country."

In other political developments:

—Rep. Peter N. Kyros, D-Maine, and Republican state Sen. Horace Hildreth Jr. won nomination in a Maine primary Monday to oppose each other for Congress. Actor Gary Merrill and former state Rep. David L. Graham were last in the two three-way races.

—Michigan Gov. George Romney announced Nixon will meet with the state's convention delegation June 26.

—Gov. John A. Volpe indicated he believes Massachusetts' GOP delegates will split after their commitment to vote for Rockefeller on the first national convention ballot.

Reading Program To Start Monday For Area Pupils

The Summer Reading program designed to improve language skills of students in the Escanaba Area school district will open for public and parochial students Monday, May 24.

Louis Diedrich, program director, said the program will run in morning hours through Aug. 2.

Reading centers will be operated at Lemmer and Webster schools.

State Modifies Helmet Law

A new law passed by the Michigan legislature requiring motorcycle riders to "carry" crash helmets has been given immediate effect, Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas Chapek said Monday.

Chapek said the law modifies a previous Michigan law which was declared unconstitutional.

The new law, Public Act 41 of 1968, required motorcycles to be equipped and to carry a number of crash helmets equal to the number of drivers and passengers.

All helmets must be approved by the State Police.

The previous law required motorcycle drivers and passengers to wear safety helmets while riding motorcycles or motorbikes. It was challenged in the courts on the grounds that the state can't force people to take precautions for their own safety.

The program is funded under the U.S. Elementary-Secondary Education Act.

Two classes will be held at each reading center daily. Students reporting for the first session at 8:00 a.m. will be dismissed at 10 a.m. The second session begins at 10:30 with dismissal at 12:30 p.m.

A tentative transportation schedule has been arranged with buses making pickups at the Cornell, Wells, Soo Hill, Pine Ridge and the Ford River schools. Diedrich said it will be the responsibility of each parent to see that their child arrives at his respective pickup point to be taken to the reading centers.

Buses planned, according to drivers, are:

George Choler, Ford River pickup about 8:30, Pine Ridge about 9:50; Byron Ford, Groes pickup about 9:15, Chemical Plant 9:30, Bay View 9:45, and Wells 10; Paul Horst, Cornell School about 9:15, Danforth Rd. pickup at Felix Johnson residence about 9:30, Sodergren's Store about 9:45, and Soo Hill School 10:00.

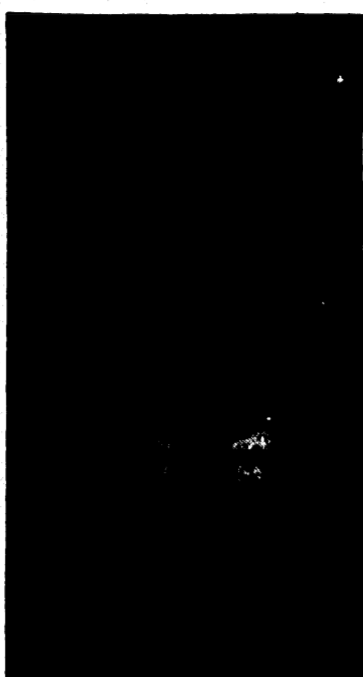

Diedrich said the limited bus schedule is required because of a limited transportation budget. Students will report to either the Webster or Lemmer Reading Center according to schools attended.

Assignments are:

Webster Reading Center: 8 a.m. - St. Thomas, Webster, Washington (15 students); 10:30 a.m. - Washington (20 students), Soo Hill, Cornell, Wells.

Lemmer Reading Center: 8 a.m. - St. Patrick's, St. Anne's, Lemmer, 7th Day Adventist and Franklin (12 students); 10:30 a.m. - Franklin (13 students), St. Joseph's, Jefferson, Pine Ridge and Ford River.

Constantini To Seek Old Seat

James Constantini, 39, will seek the Democratic nomination for state representative in the 109th District.

Constantini has been employed as a staff representative for Council 55, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO and has resigned to seek nomination.

Constantini was elected to the House of Representatives in 1960 and again in 1964. He lost in 1968 by a margin of 25 votes. During his service in the Legislature, he worked for tax relief and increased benefits in workmen's compensation, increased school aid and tax relief for farmers.

Constantini is married and has one daughter, Paula. The family resides at 609 Grant St., Iron Mountain.

The 109th District includes Menominee, Dickinson and Iron counties and parts of Gogebic and Marquette.

Jack Gingress of Iron Mountain, Democrat, is the incumbent representative. The district was served by Clifford Ferras, Nadeau, manager of the U.P. State Fair, Republican.

Webster, Royce Programs Start

The Escanaba Recreation Dept. will open its Arts and Crafts programs at Webster and Royce Parks Wednesday.

Leaders of the program for youngsters will be Beverly Busick and Donna Stiglitz at Royce Park and Marge Sauve and Sue Way at Webster.

All are employed under the work-study program of Bay de Noc Community College. Miss Busick will be a sophomore at the college this fall. Miss Stiglitz and Miss Sauve will be freshmen. Miss Way is a student at Northern Michigan University.

Arts and crafts activities are planned at both playgrounds from 9 a.m. to noon. Afternoons from 1 to 5 will be devoted to various games, including badminton, croquet, shuffleboard and volleyball.

Children between the ages of five and 10 are welcome to attend the sessions.

The wading pool at Webster is scheduled to open Monday, June 24.

Three Hundredth Bear Is Trapped

The 300th black bear has been tagged and released in the Upper Peninsula by game biologists since the program began about 10 years ago. Bears have been taken in live traps and by the use of "capture guns." One black bear was recently live trapped in the Newberry District which had two release tags on its ear. This was the third time this black bear had been live trapped as a nuisance bear. Most bears are released up to 50 miles away from where they were trapped.

Squids move faster than most other sea animals. Some can shoot 30 and 40 feet out of the water and glide over the waves for more than 100 feet.

Lee's Style Shop Sale Announced By Mrs. Hendricks

Sale of Lee's Style Shop, 1005 Ludington St., to Mrs. June Nelson, 1900 23rd Ave., S., was announced today by Mrs. J. Lee Hendricks.

Mrs. Hendricks, 907 S. 13th St., had operated the shop with her late husband for the past 25 years.

Mrs. Nelson took over operation of the shop Monday. The name will remain the same.

Kiwanis Honors Senior Members

The Escanaba Kiwanis Club honored seven of its senior members Monday.

As a group, the members represent more than 250 years of service to the club. They received Legion of Honor certificates and pins representative of their years in Kiwanis.

Receiving 30-year pins were Rev. Karl Hammar and Walter Wickert. Thirty-five year pins were presented to Krin Bloom, Art Aronsen, Henry Bathke and Pat Gasman. Aronsen, Bathke and Gasman all joined Kiwanis on the same day.

John Bartella, only charter member of Kiwanis who is with the club today, received a 45-year pin. Bartella joined the initial Escanaba Kiwanis Club on March 11, 1923.

Bloom, Aronsen, Bathke, Gasman and Bartella all are past presidents. All except Bloom, who remains active, are privileged members of the club.

Presentations were made by Don Wertz, past president.

Vern Ihlenfeldt, curriculum materials coordinator of the Escanaba Area school system gave a demonstration of the overhead projector and discussed its uses as a teaching tool.

Ihlenfeldt said that the overhead projector allows instructors the ultimate in variety. The only tools needed are the projector, a screen, acetate paper, a grease pencil and some imagination, he continued.

The projector allows a teacher to face the class while demonstrating whatever subject is being taught, thereby insuring attention, Ihlenfeldt said. The room can be fully lighted while the projector is in use. Materials can be obtained from almost any source such as magazines, newspapers, etc.

Ihlenfeldt said learning is one per cent by taste, 1.5 per cent by touch, 3.5 per cent by smell, 11 per cent by hearing, and 83 per cent by sight. If sight is not used, he added, the teacher stands to lose 83 per cent of his audience.

Television waves travel in straight lines.

Bank Lot Doubles For Play Area

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Union Bank and Trust Co. in Grand Rapids has turned the parking lot of one of its inner city bank branches into a recreational center after banking hours. A basketball court complete with lights for evening playing has been completed at the Hall-Division Office and will be supervised by a member of an inner city youth group.

"We hope the program we're initiating here works...and will prove an incentive to other organizations to do likewise," bank president Ed Frey said.

Guns Stolen At Mount Clemens

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Police are investigating the theft of a weapons cache from the home of a Mount Clemens man. Some 13 pistols, rifles shotguns and a quantity of ammunition were reported stolen from the home of William Gurac.

No value has been placed on the missing weapons, all said to be in working order.

1967 Fires Kill 324 In State

LANSING (AP) — Despite the fact that fewer fires were reported, fire claimed more lives and destroyed more property in 1967 than in any previous year in Michigan's history.

A total of 324 persons perished in fires last year, the Michigan State Police said Monday. Property damage reached an all-time high of $86.7 million.

The previous high in loss of lives occurred in 1964 when 297 persons perished. The former record for property damage of $78.1 million was set in 1963.

Civil disturbances were responsible for $14.2 million property loss, authorities said.

Property damage last year in Wayne County totaled $33.4 million, compared with $19.5 million in 1966.

A total of 303,619 fires were reported in 1967, down 12,742 from the previous high set in 1966.

Most adult fire deaths were caused by careless smoking and clothing catching fire, authorities said, while defective heating units and playing with fire resulted in a majority of child fatalities.

No Forest Fires

No forest fires were reported in the Upper Peninsula state protection area for the week ending June 15. To date District 3 (Escanaba) has had 81 fires burning 1128.4 acres and District IV (Newberry) has had 51 fires burning 538.7 acres.

State Modifies Helmet Law

A new law passed by the Michigan legislature requiring motorcyclists to "carry" crash helmets has been given immediate effect, Prosecuting Attorney Nicholas Chapekis said Monday.

Chapekis said the law modifies a previous Michigan law which was declared unconstitutional.

The new law, Public Act 41 of 1968, required motorcyclists to be equipped and to carry a number of crash helmets equal to the number of drivers and passengers.

All helmets must be approved by the State Police.

The previous law required motorcycle drivers and passengers to wear safety helmets while riding motorcycles or motorbikes. It was challenged in the courts on the grounds that the state can't force people to take precautions for their own safety.

Employees Reject Manistique Offer

MANISTIQUE—City employees of Manistique unanimously rejected a contract offering of City Council Monday night and asked Earl Wood, staff representative of the union, to request the services of the Michigan State Labor Mediation Board to help settle their dispute with the city.

John Blomquist, general chairman of the City Employees Union said that the main stumbling block to settlement was a percentage contribution clause of a pension plan proposal the city made.

The city's proposal calls for five percent contribution by employees with the city paying three percent. The employees feel the contributions should be reversed.

Issue Statement

The following statement was released Monday night through Blomquist:

"At a meeting of members of Local 1196, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, held Monday June 17, the members were unanimous in rejecting the final offer of the City of Manistique. (The union members are the workers in the Department of Public Works, Public Safety, Water and Sewage Plant operation).

"After a number of negotiating sessions, the councilmen of the city have refused to increase the offer to the workers made at the first meetings.

"This offer consisted of $240.00 per year wage increase for the workers or an alternate offer of a pension plan which would require five per cent contribution by the employees rather than the normal three per cent. Only 15 years of back service credit would be given instead of the normal full service credit.

"While making this offer to the union the Council has tentatively granted wage increases to supervisors of between $300 and $800 per year plus participation in the union's pension plan.

"If management is to grant themselves lucrative increases at least a fair offer should be made to the union.

"Earl Wood, staff representative of the union, stated he would request the services of the Michigan State Labor Mediation Service to help settle this dispute."

Contract Expired

The union's reference to "a normal three percent" union contribution is taken from a guideline issued by the Michigan Employees Retirement System handbook. The union feels that 15 years is not enough retroactive service credit for the 25- and 30-years' service some of the older employees have—especially those who will retire within the next five years.

The city's contract with the union expired on May 31 but Blomquist said he expects the union will agree to extend the contract until some settlement can be reached. No strike is anticipated.

City representatives Mayor Leo DeMars and City Manager Robert Noe met Monday with union negotiators headed by E. J. Doyle, chairman, and Joseph

McDonough, Joseph Davis, Victor Peterson and Blomquist.

Noe said this morning the city spent $500 exploring equitable pension plans and said that the cost to the city for assuming all back service credit would be approximately 25 cents per hour. A counterproposal was made to the union requiring three per cent employee contribution for a two-year period and this would cost the city 20 cents per hour plus six per cent increase across the board per employee, he said.

"The union rejected a pension plan proposal ten years ago," Noe said, "and Council feels they are using the pension plan to whipsaw a higher wage offering."

Contributions Returnable

Noe pointed out that all employee contributions to a pension plan are returnable to the payee and said the final city offer made would mean $319.68 more per employee or an hourly wage increase of 15 cents.

"The union said they wanted a pension plan and would go as high as five per cent when negotiations first opened," Noe said. "The only way Council can meet the demands of the union would be to raise taxes or cut service since the city's assessed valuation dropped last year and the returns from property taxes will be less this year."

Referring to the union's statement that supervisory employees were given $300-$800 increases, Noe said he believes the pay level of supervisory personnel should be brought up to the same level of the hourly employees. He pointed out that the chief of Police made only $6500 salary last year, while the assistant police chief, an hourly employee, made $6900.

The union is currently receiving 21 per cent in fringe benefits, Noe said. The lowest pay for a man in the Dept. of Public Works is $2.34, but with fringe benefits his hourly wage is equivalent to $2.83 per hour; the highest paid man is earning $2.74 and with fringe benefits, his hourly wage is $3.33. The fire and police pay is the equivalent or better, he said.

"The city proposals are as good as or better than other municipalities in the area are offering and better than some private employers offer," Noe concluded.

John Beauchamp GOP Candidate For Prosecutor

John R. Beauchamp, an attorney with offices at 1016 Ludington St., announces that he is a candidate of the Republican Party for the Office of prosecuting attorney in Delta County.

Beauchamp opened his office in Escanaba in September of 1967. Prior to that time, he and his family resided for eight years in the Detroit area, where he practiced law with the Detroit law firm of Raymond, Chirco, Fletcher, Donaldson and Ruwart.

He was born in Escanaba, attended St. Anne's School and was graduated from Escanaba High School in 1951. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Beauchamp of Ford River Road.

After serving two years with the U. S. Army in Germany and being honorably discharged, he attended Ferris State College and Northern Michigan University. He received a Bachelor of Arts degree with majors in economics and accounting from Northern in 1959.

Upon graduation from Northern, he took a position with the Internal Revenue Service as a revenue agent. In that position he was responsible for the audit of corporate and individual federal tax returns.

While employed with the Internal Revenue Service, he attended and received his legal education from Wayne State University Law School, Detroit.

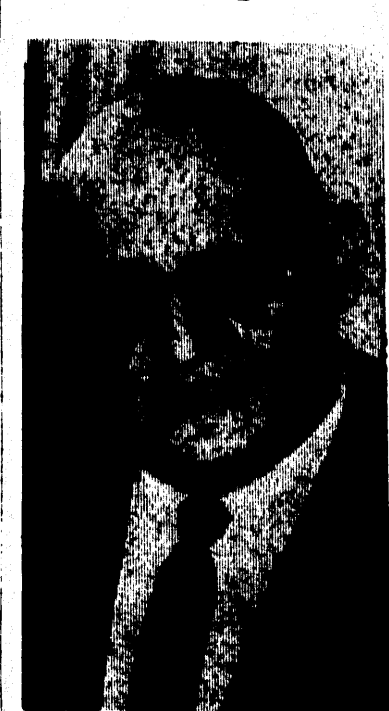

Jaycee Party Set Friday

The annual party sponsored by the past officers of the Escanaba area Jaycees is planned for Friday evening, June 21 at the Mead Rod and Gun Club. The affair begins at 7:30 p.m.

Past President John LaBranche reports that there will be plenty of refreshments this year and a few surprises are also planned.

Interested persons and guests are welcome. For more information call John LaBranche, 786-0698.

Fred Saykly Is New King Lion

Fred Saykly

Fred Saykly, owner of Saykly's Candies of Escanaba, Monday was installed as president of the Escanaba Lions Club for 1968-69.

Saykly, who served as first vice president the past year, succeeds Walter Peterson. Other officers installed by Arthur Goulais, international counselor and first president of the Escanaba Lions Club 34 years ago, were: Dennis Foltman, first vice president; August Brazeau, second vice president; William Perron, third vice president; David Andrews, tall twister, Gary Barton, Lion tamer, and Donald Scott, secretary.

Charles Beggs and Jack Bradshaw were installed as members of the Board of Directors. Ronald DeVos and Nick Bink remain on the board.

DeVos reported that the Lions Club Radio Day promotion in May netted $1,880 for the club's Sight and Blind fund.

DeVos said the club wished to express its appreciation to all businessmen and merchants of the area who contributed to the program.

Foltman said the E-Z-See Phone Roll, a directory of business telephone numbers, is ready for distribution. Club members will distribute the phone roll this week.

Man Injured By Tree Limb

MANISTIQUE — Leonard Crisp of Robbinsville, N. C. was taken to Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Sunday at 9:30 a.m. in serious condition after being struck in the head by a tree limb.

H. C. Price Pipeline Co. officials said Crisp was operating a tractor on a pipeline location near Engadine when a limb snapped on the tractor base and flew up and hit the man. His condition is unchanged this morning, officials said.

Future Farmers Camp At Jordan

The Stephenson Chapter of the Future Farmers of America attended the annual leadership camp at East Jordan. Attending from Stephenson were Hamilton LeGrove, William Hanson, Alan Majkrzak, Dennis DeTemple, Mike Vancouver and Dean Gidlof, who was elected treasurer of Region 8, which encompasses the northern part of the Lower Peninsula and all of the Upper Peninsula.

On the return trip the group visited Fort Michilimackinac and Tahquamenon Falls. Warren Suchosky of the high school faculty is advisor and accompanied the group.

Keweenaw Takes First Chinooks

The first chinook salmon were taken from Keweenaw Bay last week by fish biologists who were netting the waters for brook trout, rainbow and salmon. Two chinooks, one 12.5 inches and the other 12.8 inches, were part of a 50,000 chinook release made in the Big Huron River on May 11, 1967, at Big Eric's Bridge.

Fish Biologist Tom Stauffer, Marquette, reported that coho salmon fry were found in the Anna River at Munising recently. These would be the fish hatched naturally from spawning coho salmon last fall. Other finds of naturally spawned coho were reported recently from the Ravine River and Kallio's Creek near L'Anse.

Hart Is Speaker

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A party fund-raising dinner, postponed because of the death of Sen. Robert Kennedy, is scheduled July 26 by Kent County Democrats. U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart, a member of a Presidential commission to study causes of violence in this country, is scheduled to address the event.

John R. Beauchamp

Upon graduation he received a degree of Juris Doctor.

He is affiliated with Delta Theta Phi, a national legal fraternity, is a member of the State Bar of Michigan, the American Bar Association and is currently serving as secretary-treasurer of the Delta County Bar Association. Also, he is a vice-president and a member of the Board of Directors of the Optimist Club of Escanaba, is treasurer of St. Anne's Holy Name Society and is a member of the Highland Golf Club.

Beauchamp, his wife, Sandra and two children reside at 1611 S. 16th St., in Escanaba.

The incumbent prosecutor is Nicholas P. Chapetka, Democrat, who has served since 1952 and who has announced his candidacy for re-nomination.

Employees Reject Manistique Offer

MANISTIQUE—City employees of Manistique unanimously rejected a contract offering of City Council Monday night and asked Earl Wood, staff representative of the union, to request the services of the Michigan State Labor Mediation Board to help settle their dispute with the city.

John Blomquist, general chairman of the City Employees Union said that the main stumbling block to settlement was a percentage contribution clause of a pension plan proposal the city made.

The city's proposal calls for five percent contribution by employees with the city paying three percent. The employees feel the contributions should be reversed.

Issue Statement

The following statement was released Monday night through Blomquist:

"At a meeting of members of Local 1196, American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, held Monday June 17, the members were unanimous in rejecting the final offer of the City of Manistique. (The union members are the workers in the Department of Public Works, Public Safety, Water and Sewage Plant operation).

"After a number of negotiating sessions, the councilmen of the city have refused to increase the offer to the workers made at the first meetings.

"This offer consisted of $249.60 per year wage increase for the workers or an alternate offer of a pension plan which would require five per cent contribution by the employees rather than the normal three per cent. Only 15 years of back service credit would be given instead of the normal full service credit.

"While making this offer to the union the Council has tentatively granted wage increases to supervisors of between $300 and $800 per year plus participation in the union's pension plan.

"If management is to grant themselves lucrative increases at least a fair offer should be made to the union.

"Earl Wood, staff representative of the union, stated he would request the services of the Michigan State Labor Mediation Service to help settle this dispute."

Contract Expired

The union's reference to "a normal three percent" union contribution is taken from a guideline issued by the Michigan Employees Retirement System handbook. The union feels that 15 years is not enough retroactive service credit for the 25- and 30-years' service some of the older employees have—especially those who will retire within the next five years.

The city's contract with the union expired on May 31 but Blomquist said he expects the union will agree to extend the contract until some settlement can be reached. No strike is anticipated.

City representatives Mayor Leo DeMars and City Manager Robert Noe met Monday with union negotiators headed by E. J. Doyle, chairman, and Joseph

McDonough, Joseph Davis, Victor Peterson and Blomquist.

Noe said this morning the city spent $500 exploring equitable pension plans and said that the cost to the city for assuming all back service credit would be approximately 25 cents per hour. A counterproposal was made to the union requiring three per cent employee contribution for a two-year period and this would cost the city 20 cents per hour plus six per cent increase across the board per employee, he said.

"The union rejected a pension plan proposal ten years ago," Noe said, "and Council feels they are using the pension plan to whipsaw a higher wage offering."

Contributions Returnable

Noe pointed out that all employee contributions to a pension plan are returnable to the payee and said the final city offer made would mean $319.68 more per employee or an hourly wage increase of 15 cents.

"The union said they wanted a pension plan and would go as high as five per cent when negotiations first opened," Noe said. "The only way Council can meet the demands of the

He pointed out that the chief of Police made only $6500 salary last year, while the assistant police chief, an hourly employee, made $6900.

The union is currently receiving 21 per cent in fringe benefits, Noe said. The lowest pay for a man in the Dept. of Public Works is $2.34, but with fringe benefits his hourly wage is equivalent to $2.83 per hour; the highest paid man is earning $2.74 and with fringe benefits, his hourly wage is $3.33. Alger Delta Day

The Alger Delta Cooperative Electric Association will hold its annual meeting tomorrow at Gladstone and mark 33 years of achievement which have changed the way of living in the huge area which the utility serves in the mid-Upper Peninsula. Its service was started in the Rapid River-Trenary-Rock-Perkins area in 1935 and it has been extended since then into Menominee County, to Big Bay, to the Isabella-Nahma area, to Grand Marais.

From a relatively few miles of lines in a humble beginning it has grown to a power grid with 1,056 miles of electric line and 4,355 customers.

Its electricity is purchased from Upper Peninsula Power Co. and other investor-owned utilities which generate it.

What Alger-Delta has done for its service area is almost incalculable. Most of the men who incorporated the cooperative and borrowed money from the Rural Electric Administration are still with us and still active in the utility, but even to them it must seem a long time ago that they first met to discuss how they could get the great benefits of electric service which were being enjoyed by their city cousins.

There were some basic impediments to extension of the city utilities' lines into the country to give rural people electric lights and power. In the first place investor-owned utilities are highly regulated by government to assure that their investors and their customers are treated fairly. And also, of course, to assure that the public is treated fairly.

The government regulatory agency doesn't permit the public utility to earn more than a fair profit on its investment, nor to charge the customer more than a fair rate for service. Not so familiar to the public, perhaps, is the prohibition against making one set of customers pay for service rendered to another set.

This was the basic hang-up in rural electrification. Electric utilities had developed in the cities where the population was high density. Cities also offered commercial and industrial customers for power.

After a feeble start the city electric utilities became profitable. Some of their early profits came from electric trolley lines which carried people to work weekdays and to the city park, the cemetery or the bowling alley at the end of the trolley line for recreation on Sunday.

Power is the force, in addition to muscle, that determines the state of industrial civilization. The more power, the more advanced industrial society is. The undeveloped nations are not only lacking in education; they're also lacking in power. American farmers and rural dwellers of other kinds sought this magic force in the 1930s to assist them as it had assisted the cities. Investor-owned utilities gave assistance to the process where they could, but the need was massive and Congress moved to solve it nationally with the creation of the Rural Electrification Administration.

It loans money to rural electric cooperatives at less than commercial loan rates (2.5 per cent) and they use it to provide electric service to areas of low population density. This transforms living in such areas. (We had a late demonstration of this magic in the Lights For Christmas project at the Hannahville Indian Reservation a year ago.)

Our rural people on the REA lines achieved more than a switch from kerosene lamps to electric lights with rural electrification, however. It transformed living with the introduction of modern power and it made possible the attracting of some business enterprises to rural areas which wouldn't have considered such sites if they were not served by an electric line.

The pioneering stage in rural electrification is over. Most of the persons who want to snap a switch instead of striking a match now have electric service, or can get it for the asking. REA has grown into a colossus which projects continued growth and improvement of rural electrification.

There should be examination of such programming, but meanwhile it is a pleasure to commend for their great public services Wynand Nieuwenkamp and his colleagues of Alger Delta, the pioneer directors of the utility who brought light and electric power to our area and ended the rural segregation which lack of power had imposed upon the outland.

Sane Haste

A tire maker and a precision instrument manufacturer in West Germany carried out an interesting experiment recently.

They took two identical cars, reports the Ontario Department of Transport, and fitted them with instruments which registered every driving detail during a trip of almost 1,000 miles from Hamburg to Rimini on the Italian coast. More than half the distance was over expressway-type routes.

One driver was told to make the best time he could, to pass when it was safe and to take bends at the maximum possible speed. The second driver was told to take it easy, to avoid any risk and to move as the traffic flow permitted.

Result: After almost 1,000 miles, the speed demon finished only 31 minutes ahead of the relaxed driver. Taking every advantage, he averaged less than 50 m.p.h. He was behind the wheel 20 hours and 12 minutes and used his brakes 1,339 times, including four emergency stops. He passed 2,004 other cars and was passed by only 18.

The slow driver braked 652 times (with no emergency stops), passed 645 times and was passed 142 times. His driving time was 20 hours, 48 minutes.

Experienced drivers from West Germany's biggest motoring club were skeptical and tried a test of their own — an 800-mile run from Cologne to the Brenner Pass.

In this test, the fast car took 16 hours, 52 minutes; the slow took 21 minutes longer.

Hart Opposed To Anti-Missile Plan

One of the mildly insane practicalities of life on modern earth is that peace between its two greatest powers has depended heavily on the sure knowledge that each can destroy the other.

The Russians' security depends on the certainty that we could not strike them with atomic missiles without being mortally clobbered ourselves and our security rests on precisely the same knowledge about the Russians.

The nuclear arms race slowed down once both nations were convinced that they had more than enough missiles to destroy their principal adversary. At that point, there is no real reward for getting ahead. The arms race gets cranked up again only if one nation becomes a little unsure of its ability to completely knock out the other.

The United States, for example, was momentarily concerned when the Russians ringed Moscow with a limited anti-ballistic missile defense. But this fear diminished with the development of our MIRV, a missile that separates into multiple warheads as it approaches its goal—thus giving the defense more incoming targets than it can manage.

Now the U. S. military is proposing that we build a "thin" anti-ballistic missile (ABM) system at a cost of $5 billion. It would consist of a system that would quickly detect incoming missiles with radar and then send nuclear-

This "thin" ABM would not provide enough missiles to stop Russia's heavy arsenal but the military claims it could defend us from Red China during that period when the Chinese have only a small number of operational offensive missiles. The theory is that China, during the time

Court Forbids Rail Rate Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court denied permission Monday for railroads to cut freight rates to meet truck and barge competition.

Agreeing with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the court ruled 8-1 that rate-cut proposals may not be weighed by the standard of "out-of-pocket" costs.

The "out-of-pocket" formula could, if applied broadly, result in ruinous competition with the railroads emerging the ultimate victors, the court said.

Federal law and national transportation policy make it illegal to cut rates below cost to beat out a competing means of transportation. The question was how to measure costs.

Truck and barge operators claimed two railroads, the Pennsylvania and the Louisville and Nashville, set below-cost rates in 1965 when they dropped to $5.11 a ton from $11.86 a ton their rate for moving ingot molds from Neville Island and Pittsburgh, Pa., to Steelton, Ky.

For 10 years almost all the ingot molds had been moved between the points by trucks and barges and since 1960 the charge had been $5.11 a ton, exactly the new rate posted by the railroads.

CATV Spared Copyright Fee

WASHINGTON (AP) — CATV operators were spared by the Supreme Court Monday from having to pay for televised movies and other copyrighted material they pick up from TV stations and relay to their subscribers.

The 5-1 decision was a major victory for operators of community antenna television systems and a major setback for firms which license motion pictures and cartoons to TV stations.

Justice Potter Stewart, giving the ruling, said CATV operators do not violate the 1908 federal copyright law because their relay of copyrighted material is not actually a performance of the material.

Because it is not a performance, he and Chief Justice Earl Warren, Hugo L. Black, William J. Brennan Jr. and Byron R. White agreed that Fortnightly Corp., a CATV operator, does not have to make compensation for copyrighted material it transmitted to subscribers in Clarkburg and Fairmont, W. Va.

Everything happens to the unlucky expert. That is... everything bad. He must have something good occasionally but we never hear about it. Here is his latest tale of woe:

"With 24 points including two aces and all four kings, I was certainly entitled to go to six no-trump. For anyone else 24 plus 10 or 34 is enough for a slam. Most of the time 32 is enough for my opponents. This time, with the bad break in hearts, I had no play for six. West opened his 10 of diamonds. East's jack lost to my king and I cashed my ace and king of hearts to see what would happen. West showed out and it became apparent to me that West had opened a four-card diamond suit to the 10. I led a diamond. West played the eight and I ducked. East showed out and West proceeded to cash three more diamond tricks and set me three. Imagine a man leading away from an ace against six no-trump!"

We sympathize with our friend, but we really felt that he deserved this bit of bad luck. He had no play for his slam without that diamond lead. With it he should have made the hand, without knowing where the ace of diamonds was.

There was no hurry about playing the second diamond. When West showed out on the second heart lead, South might have played a club. East would have shown out immediately and South would know that West had started with six clubs, one heart and various spades and diamonds. There would be no reason not to play a couple of spades. Lo and behold! West would show out on the second lead of that suit.

South would have a perfect count of the West hand and know that he started with exactly five diamonds. That would leave only one diamond for East and he had already played it. South would know where the ace of diamonds was just as surely as if he were looking right at it.

Ann Landers Corner Not Jinxed; You Just Think So

Dear Ann Landers: Do you believe a place can be jinxed? I used to laugh at the idea but too many things have happened that make me suspect there might be something to it.

A certain corner in our city has been the scene of four accidents within 24 months involving members of my family. My father had a head-on collision with a truck and was critically injured. My wife was hit by a drunk driver at the same spot six months later. The following month my brother ran over a dog at the identical place. Yesterday, a kid on roller skates appeared out of nowhere and I hit him. Thank God the boy got off with only a broken arm.

Can all of these accidents be coincidental? If there is a logical explanation I'd like to hear it.—CURSE OF THE CORNER
 Dear Corner: You and your relatives ought to stay away from that place—not because it's jinxed, but because you think it is.

I can understand how you'd become unglued just approaching the scene of so many family accidents. Avoid that corner—even if it means going a mile out of your way.

Dear Ann Landers: This is just a little thing but it could save a lot of trouble and money.

On my last birthday I received three beautiful, expensive books. In each book, the giver wrote a warm sentiment and signed his name. Two books were duplicates of one I already had in my library. I don't mean to sound ungracious, but here I sit with three identical $37 books. In one book is written, "I hope you will always hold this gift dear to your heart" etc., etc. The other book is inscribed: "Much love to a dear friend whose affection I cherish and whose dedication to the fine principles of humanity I hope to emulate."

If these well-meaning folks had not written in the books I could have returned them. How does this strike you?—PRACTICAL

Dear Fran: It strikes me as incredible that a person who could rate such warm inscriptions could be so insensitive. You've got duplicates—so what? The sentiments expressed by your friends should make the books priceless.

Dear Ann Landers: This morning the clunk I am married to told me he wrote to me. Please, Ann, don't print his letter. To begin with he'd rather lie than tell the truth and he's awfully good at making himself look good and me look lousy, even if it means making up a story out of thin air.

I have been through so much hell with this ape and so many people know about it that any kind of publicity in the paper would be recognized at once. The jerk even signed his right name. He wrote the letter in green ink on my son's white notebook paper. I'm begging you on my knees, Ann Landers, please don't print his letter.—SLEEPLESS NIGHTS
 Dear Sleepless: Get off your knees, Lady. I have your husband's letter in my hands and it will not appear in print. You have my word for it.

Alger Delta Day

The Alger Delta Cooperative Electric Association will hold its annual meeting tomorrow at Gladstone and mark 33 years of achievement which have changed the way of living in the huge area which the utility serves in the mid-Upper Peninsula. Its service was started in the Rapid River-Trenary-Rock-Perkins area in 1935 and it has been extended since then into Menominee County, to Big Bay, to the Isabella-Nahma area, to Grand Marais.

From a relatively few miles of lines in a humble beginning it has grown to a power grid with 1,056 miles of electric line and 4,355 customers.

Its electricity is purchased from Upper Peninsula Power Co. and other investor-owned utilities which generate it.

What Alger-Delta has done for its service area is almost incalculable. Most of the men who incorporated the cooperative and borrowed money from the Rural Electric Administration are still with us and still active in the utility, but even to them it must seem a long time ago that they first met to discuss how they could get the great benefits of electric service which were being enjoyed by their city cousins.

There were some basic impediments to extension of the city utilities' lines into the country to give rural people electric lights and power. In the first place investor-owned utilities are highly regulated by government to assure that their investors and their customers are treated fairly. And also, of course, to assure that the public is treated fairly.

The government regulatory agency doesn't permit the public utility to earn more than a fair profit on its investment, nor to charge the customer more than a fair rate for service. Not so familiar to the public, perhaps, is the prohibition against making one set of customers pay for service rendered to another set.

This was the basic hang-up in rural electrification. Electric utilities had developed in the cities where the population was high density. Cities also offered commercial and industrial customers for power.

After a feeble start the city electric utilities became profitable. Some of their early profits came from electric trolley lines which carried people to work weekdays and to the city park, the cemetery or the bowling alley at the end of the trolley line for recreation on Sunday.

Power is the force, in addition to muscle, that determines the state of industrial civilization. The more power, the more advanced industrial society is. The undeveloped nations are not only lacking in education; they're also lacking in power. American farmers and rural dwellers of other kinds sought this magic force in the 1930s to assist them as it had assisted the cities. Investor-owned utilities gave assistance to the process where they could, but the need was massive and Congress moved to solve it nationally with the creation of the Rural Electrification Administration.

It loans money to rural electric cooperatives at less than commercial loan rates (2.5 per cent) and they use it to provide electric service to areas of low population density. This transforms living in such areas. (We had a late demonstration of this magic in the Lights For Christmas project at the Hannahville Indian Reservation a year ago.)

Our rural people on the REA lines achieved more than a switch from kerosene lamps to electric lights with rural electrification, however. It transformed living with the introduction of modern power and it made possible the attracting of some business enterprises to rural areas which wouldn't have considered such sites if they were not served by an electric line.

The pioneering stage in rural electrification is over. Most of the persons who want to snap a switch instead of striking a match now have electric service, or can get it for the asking. REA has grown into a colossus which projects continued growth and improvement of rural electrification.

There should be examination of such programming, but meanwhile it is a pleasure to commend for their great public services Wynand Nieuwenkamp and his colleagues of Alger Delta, the pioneer directors of the utility who brought light and electric power to our area and ended the rural segregation which lack of power had imposed upon the outland.

Sane Haste

A tire maker and a precision instrument manufacturer in West Germany carried out an interesting experiment recently.

They took two identical cars, reports the Ontario Department of Transport, and fitted them with instruments which registered every driving detail during a trip of almost 1,000 miles from Hamburg to Rimini on the Italian coast. More than half the distance was over expressway-type routes.

One driver was told to make the best time he could, to pass when it was safe and to take bends at the maximum possible speed. The second driver was told to take it easy, to avoid any risk and to move as the traffic flow permitted.

Result: After almost 1,000 miles, the speed demon finished only 31 minutes ahead of the relaxed driver. Taking every advantage, he averaged less than 50 m.p.h. He was behind the wheel 20 hours and 12 minutes and used his brakes 1,339 times, including four emergency stops. He passed 2,004 other cars and was passed by only 13.

The slow driver braked 652 times (with no emergency stops), passed 645 times and was passed 142 times. His driving time was 20 hours, 43 minutes.

Experienced drivers from West Germany's biggest motoring club were skeptical and tried a test of their own — an 800-mile run from Cologne to the Brenner Pass.

In this test, the fast car took 16 hours, 52 minutes; the slow took 21 minutes longer.

In both tests, besides making his life, the fast driver paid a penalty of about 10 more gallons of gasoline, plus obvious wear on his brakes, tires, suspension and engine.

Hart Opposed To Anti-Missile Plan

One of the mildly insane practicalities of life on modern earth is that peace between its two greatest powers has depended heavily on the sure knowledge that each can destroy the other.

The Russians' security depends on the certainty that we could not strike them with atomic missiles without being mortally clobbered ourselves and our security rests on precisely the same knowledge about the Russians.

The nuclear arms race slowed down once both nations were convinced that they had more than enough missiles to destroy their principal adversary. At that point, there is no real reward for getting ahead. The arms race gets cranked up again only if one nation becomes a little unsure of its ability to completely knock out the other.

The United States, for example, was momentarily concerned when the Russians ringed Moscow with a limited anti-ballistic missile defense. But this fear diminished with the development of our MIRV, a missile that separates into multiple warheads as it approaches its goal—thus giving the defense more incoming targets than it can manage.

Now the U. S. military is proposing that we build a "thin" anti-ballistic missile (ABM) system at a cost of $5 billion. It would consist of a system that would quickly detect incoming missiles with radar and then send nuclear-armed missiles to intercept them.

This "thin" ABM would not provide enough missiles to stop Russia's heavy arsenal but the military claims it could defend us from Red China during that period when the Chinese have only a small number of operational offensive missiles. The theory is that China, during the time when her missile force is small and vulnerable, might be especially reckless out of an eagerness to strike first in any conflict.

The arguments against a "thin" ABM defense are these: 1. The $5 billion would only offer protection against China for a limited time. Missiles, once in production, multiply rapidly and a thin ABM system might offer effective protection for as little as two years.

2. There is reasonable doubt that the "Sentinel" system would work very well.

3. Reliable intelligence reports indicate that the Chinese have fallen behind schedule in their efforts to develop an intercontinental missile.

4. Even if the Russians understand that we are arming against a Chinese attack, they would be nervous about the diminishing effect our ABM could have on their own striking force and react to neutralize our advantage by improving their missile fleet or by building up their own ABM system.

5. A "thin" ABM system on our part will lead to pressures for a "thick" ($45 billion) ABM defense.

What we must weigh then is the temporary protection the proposed system would offer against the possibility of a new arms race that would be bound to end in a tie—but only after Russia and the United States had expended great sums of money.

The administration's decision to go ahead with the ABM was, I fear, based at least partly on the political desire to head off any campaign year criticism about a "missile gap"—an issue with a substantial history of success.

The first Congressional test for the ABM system comes later this month when the Senate will be asked to authorize the first-step expenditure of $227 million.

There are many who have serious doubts about its wisdom and I intend to join in a battle to have the authorization postponed, at least for a year.

Conshies Train Hard To Save Lives In Battle

GRAND LEDGE, Mich., June 14—Twenty three Seventh-day Adventist ministers and youth leaders have gathered here to conduct a special 10-day course for 150 draft age conscientious objectors of the church.

The training which ends Sunday, June 16, is being given at Camp Desmond T. Does, on the edge of this little town 10 miles west of Lansing. Among those in attendance are Larry L. DeGrave, Box 63, Route 1, Wilson, along with four other Lower Michigan men.

Instead of teaching the young men from 33 states how to avoid the draft, they are subjecting them to an intensified Army approved military training to enable them to become conscientious "cooperators."

Col. Clark Smith, MCC, of the church's international headquarters at Washington, D. C., the director of the camp, explained that Adventists are almost unanimously opposed to serving in combat activities but with few exceptions are willing to serve in the medical corps. "We believe in serving our government," Smith explained, "But ask only that we are not required to kill."

The Adventist Church has been providing Army approved pre-induction training programs for their draft age youth since 1934. Lately the demand for the training has forced the church to conduct four such training camps in various parts of the country instead of one national camp at Grand Ledge as has been the practice. This year other camps have been held at Fort Lewis,

Washington, and Ashland, Neb. In August the fourth camp will be held at Sequel, Calif.

The training program consists of a tough 100-hour course that puts the young men in a position to enter the Army to save life—not take it.

The medical cadet is willing to pay his own transportation costs to the camp, a $35 training fee, the place of a class, "A" uniform and the 10 long, hot days of training.

Even with this training, entering the service with the I-AO classification of a conscientious objector makes one subject to ridicule. This soon fades when a unit gets into combat. Many of the drafted Adventists will prove their mettle in combat by caring for the wounded without regard to their own safety. Casualties are high for combat medics, and the medical cadets know this.

Since the program was started 32 years ago, over 42,000 Adventist men have received this training. More than 500 of them are currently serving as medics in Vietnam today, and this current war has taken the lives of 48 Adventist medics.

Many are also decorated for acts of heroism. Camp Desmond T. Does is named for an Adventist medic who is the only known conscientious objector to have received the nation's highest award, the Congressional Medal of Honor. He won it for acts of heroism on Okinawa in 1945.

Open Housing Has Loopholes

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Fair Housing Act, hailed as one of the great pieces of social legislation when signed into law by Gov. George Romney last week, does not prevent an individual homeowner from discriminating in the sale of his property.

Although the act forbids discrimination in sale or rental of housing because of race, religion or national origin, an individual who does not advertise or publicly list his dwelling for sale is exempted from the law.

The provision applies only to owners of buildings containing accommodations for one or two families.

Persons who rent rooms in their homes also are exempted if at least one member of the family lives in the single-unit dwelling.

Owners of duplexes also can stipulate who shall live in the same building with them and owners or lessors of homes who will temporarily vacate the premises for less than 12 months are exempted from the law.

Presumably, persons who list their house for sale with a real estate agent or advertise with a sign placed in the front yard would have to comply with the provisions of the law.

Penalties provide that persons found guilty of discrimination may be fined up to $1,000 for a first violation, ordered to pay up to $500 damages and desist from conducting an unfair housing practice.

Second violators can be fined up to $2,000.

Fines would be imposed by circuit courts in counties where an alleged violation occurred.

The court action can be initiated by a human rights commission or the attorney general's office.

The Fair Housing Act becomes effective 90 days after the Legislature adjourns.

Parochial Schools Planning Program On Negro History

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan Catholic Conference reports it will develop a program to teach the history and contributions of the American Negro in all grades of all Roman Catholic schools in Michigan.

The Michigan Catholic School Superintendent's Committee said a special study committee will be appointed to develop the program.

Negro history will be interwoven in all related subjects taught in Michigan's 675 Catholic schools, including history, literature, the arts and sciences. The schools have an enrollment of nearly 270,000 students.

The committee also said it plans to conduct in-service training programs for all Catholic school principals and teachers to give them a better understanding of the problems facing inner city children.

Liberals Gain In Western Canada

CALGARY, Alta. (AP)—For the first time in years the Liberal party seems to be gaining support in western Canada. That may be good news for Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau in next Tuesday's national election.

Some political experts are predicting that Trudeau's Liberals can double the 10 parliamentary seats they now hold in the prairie provinces and British Columbia. This could make the difference in party efforts to attain a clear majority in the 264-member House of Commons and end the minority rule which has hampered both Conservatives and Liberal administrations since 1962.

The outlook is good, observers say, for the Liberals to pick up three of the 13 seats Saskatchewan will have under a redistribution of seats. They had none of 17 Saskatchewan seats in the last Parliament.

Their biggest gains in the west, however, are expected in Alberta where they are running strong in five or six districts. Their only Alberta seat in the last Parliament was held by a man who had been elected in 1965 as a member of the Social Credit party, but switched to the Liberals.

They are not expected to gain any in Manitoba and probably will lose the one they won in 1965. In British Columbia, they are encouraged by the turnouts drawn by Trudeau during his campaign swing and they hope to pick up two or three in addition to holding the seven they won in 1965.

The voting shifts in the west are attributed to several factors: —The redrawing of district lines which gave more weight to urban areas where the Liberals are stronger.

Federal Aid For U.P. Reshuffled

Marquette Skids; Unemployment Up

The unemployment situation in the Upper Peninsula has caused the U.S. Department of Commerce to change the status of some U.P. counties for federal aid.

Chiefly affected is Marquette County, which has been redesignated for partial aid after having been redesignated for aid because of healthy economic conditions. Unemployment has risen there again, especially in construction trades.

As a result Marquette County has been qualified under Title I of the Public Works Act as a public works area, entitled to federal grants for public works. Unemployment went from 4 pct. in Marquette County in 1966 to 6 pct. in 1967, and the unemployed went from 900 to 1,400, a gain of 500.

Luce County (Newberry) has been terminated as a Title 4, or redevelopment, area as of July 1, because of economic health. Title 4 redevelopment areas are entitled to grants and loans for public works and loans to businesses.

Qualified for Title 4 aid effective July 1 under the Public Works and Economic Development Act of 1965, announces the Department of Commerce are the Upper Peninsula counties of Alger, Baraga, Chippewa, Delta, Gogebic, Houghton, Iron, Keweenaw, Mackinac, and Schoolcraft.

The rating for the U.P.'s 16 counties, is four dedesignated: Dickinson, Menominee, Luce, and Ontonagon, and Marquette partially, and 10 designated for aid.

Freighter Lehigh Towed Into Port For Engine Repair

SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP)—The 580-foot, 15,000-ton freighter Lehigh was towed into Superior Monday after having floated aimlessly in Lake Superior when its engines conked out five miles off Eagle Harbor on Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

The Lehigh was taken in tow by a sister ship of the Bethlehem Steamship Co. fleet, the Johnstown. A Coast Guard patrol boat was dispatched from Hancock, Mich., to assist in event of emergency.

Fraser Shipyards estimated it would take three days to repair the Lehigh's engines.

SIGFRED — Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Sigfred of 1815 Montane Ave., Gladstone welcomed their first child, a daughter, Patricia Ann, at 8:40 a.m. on June 18. The infant weighed 7 pounds and 6 ounces at birth. The mother is the former Kerstan Svens.

NAIL — T/Sgt. and Mrs. David B. Nail of Bellevue, Neb., are the parents of a son, Lawrence David. The baby was born June 18. Mrs. Nail is the former Beverly Young of Escanaba. The child is the couple's first.

Honor Sen. Beadle

LANSING (AP) — A testimonial dinner will be held in Lansing June 25 for Sen. Frank D. Beadle, R-St. Clair, ranking Republican member of the Senate who has announced his retirement in August. Beadle, chairman of the appropriations committee, has served 18 years in the Senate.

Mrs. Thomas P. Finlan

Mary J. Poffenberger, Thomas P. Finlan Wed

Miss Mary Jeanne Poffenberger of Ann Arbor became the bride of Thomas Patrick Finlan of Lansing during a ceremony performed at 12 noon on Saturday, June 8.

Vases of yellow gladiolus adorned the altar for the double ring nuptials. The Rev. Jordan Telles heard the exchange of vows at St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Poffenberger of 421 and Ave. S. and Joseph Poffenberger of Milwaukee and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Finlan of 1424 Minneapolis Ave., Gladstone.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Patricia Maslow-ski of Lansing and bridesmaids were Jean Syreini and Barbara Mills of Ann Arbor.

Serving as bestman was Roger Finlan of Trenary and groomsmen were Richard Burrows of Kalamazoo and Dennis Wilbee of Warren. Seating the guests were Jim Corson of Lansing and Larry Finlan of Lansing.

Silk Organza
The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of ivory silk organza over tulle, fashioned with a fitted bodice of all over lace, wide portrait neckline and short sleeves with scalloped lace trim. A matching train of organza and tulle formed the back detail.

Her chapel veil of illusion net was secured by floral and seed pearl headpiece and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and roses.

The bridal aides were attired in floor length gowns of pale yellow crepe styled with bateau necklines and three quarter length sleeves. Pale yellow net veils completed their attire and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow and white carnations.

Mother's Attire
Mrs. Poffenberger wore for her daughter's wedding a turquoise silk ensemble with white accessories and Mrs. Finlan chose an aqua crepe dress with matching lace coat and bone accessories. Both mothers were presented corsages of pink carnations.

The wedding breakfast was served at the Sherman Hotel following the ceremony followed by the reception. The rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at the Dells Supper Club, and hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

After a wedding trip to Mackinac Island, the couple will reside in East Lansing.

The bride is a graduate of the University of Michigan where she received a B. S. degree in nursing. She was affiliated with Sigma Theta Tau Honor Sorority. Mr. Finlan is a graduate of Ferris State College School of Pharmacy and was affiliated with Kappa Psi fraternity.

Faith Circle meets at 2 p.m. Thursday, June 20 at the home of Mrs. Harvey Gernanson, 915 S. 7th Ave. Miss Lura Brown will lead the devotions with the program in charge of Mrs. John Nicholas.

Future activities include a coffee hour Saturday evening for the Roger Jewell family who will be leaving the city in the near future.

Negro Coed Is New National College Queen

PALM BEACH SHORES, Fla. (AP) — A pretty, 21-year-old coed from San Jose State College in California today ruled as National College Queen. She is the first Negro to win the 14-year-old pageant.

Valerie Laverne Dickerson, 5-foot-3 and 111 pounds, won the title and $10,000 in prizes Monday night in competition with 49 other girls representing U.S. colleges.

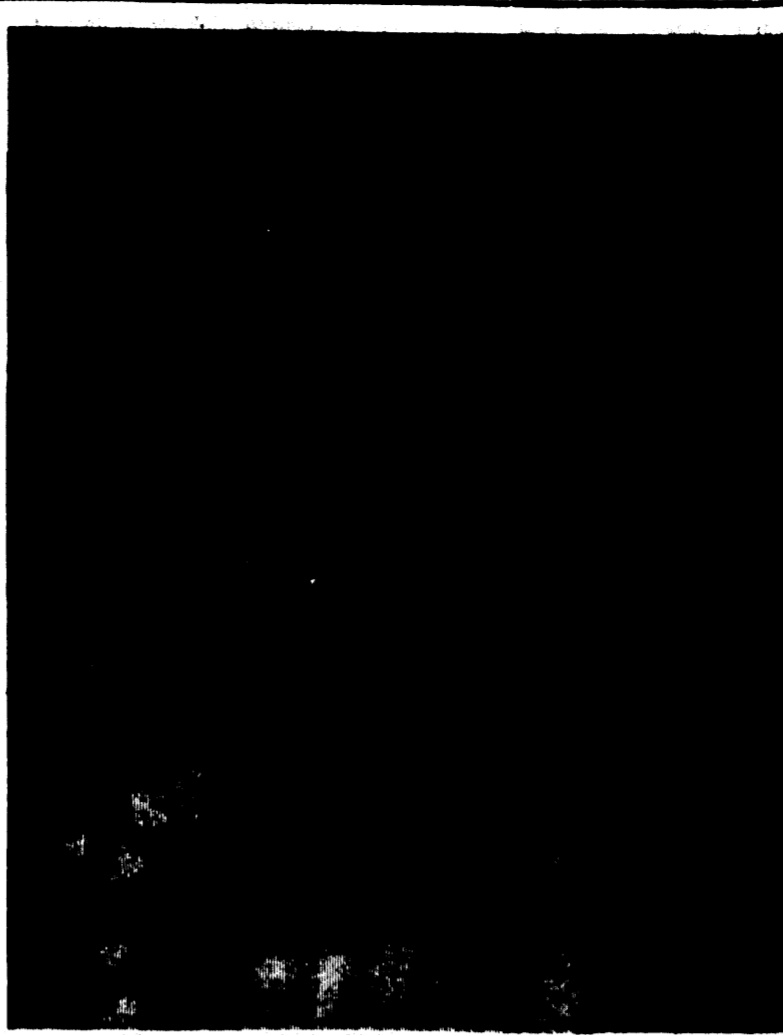

Miss Dickerson is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. William C. Dickerson of Riverside, Calif.

"I feel my winning was a help to Negroes," she said. "I think it added a small bit in their fight for dignity. I suddenly became an extension of so many people."

Mrs. James G. Ortman

Diana Charles Bride Of James G. Ortman

The First Lutheran Church of Moline, Ill., was the setting Saturday, June 15 for the wedding of Miss Diana Mae Charles of Moline and James G. Ortman of LeClaire, Iowa.

The ceremony was performed at 3 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Charles of Rte. 1 Gladstone and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Joseph Mohr of LeClaire, Iowa and Glen Ortman of Guttenberg, Iowa.

Organza, Lace
Pearl embroidered peau d'ange lace fashioned the bodice of the bride's organza gown styled with an A-line skirt and full cage back. Matching lace bordered the skirt and wattleau court train.

A lace and pearl crown held her veil of imported silk illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Matron of honor for her sister was Mrs. Carol LeClaire of DeKalb, Ill., and bridesmaids were Miss Teresa Charles of Gladstone, sister of the bride, Miss Myrna Banfield and Miss Susan Nelson, both of Moline, Ill.

They were attired in floor length yellow crepe gowns and their silk illusion veils were secured by silk organza petal headpieces. They carried a single rose in a background of avocado net.

Serving as bestman for his brother was John Ortman of Arlington Heights, Ill., and groomsmen were Chuck Zapf of Dubuque, Iowa, John Byler, Davenport, Iowa and Edward Mohr, LeClaire, Iowa. Seating the wedding guests were Dan Swanson and Lynn Cherryholmes, both of Iowa City, Iowa.

The reception was held following the ceremony in the church parlors and a wedding buffet was served later in the evening at the Joseph Mohr home in LeClaire, Iowa. The newlyweds are now honeymooning in Colorado.

The bride is a graduate of Gladstone High School and was employed as a bookkeeper at the Moline National Bank. She will be attending the University of Iowa, Iowa City, Iowa, this fall.

Mr. Ortman is a graduate of Maquoketa High School and is presently attending the University of Iowa. He also served two years with the U. S. Army and was stationed in Vietnam for 16 months.

MANISTIQUE

Chiefs In Split At Marquette

The Manistique Chiefs split a doubleheader Sunday, losing the first game to Marquette 5-0, and winning the second game 3-1 from Negaunee. Manistique is now 5-1 for the season, having previously won four straight.

The first game against the Marquette Legion team was played on the Negaunee diamond, as the Marquette field was muddy from heavy rains. Bob Cowman started on the mound for Manistique relieved in the third by Russ King. Marquette scored five runs on five hits, while Manistique was unable to get a hit off pitcher Nyquist. The game was called at the end of five innings because of rain.

In the second game against the Negaunee Legion, the Chiefs settled down and held them to one run, scoring two in the third inning when Kurt Prond reached first on an error; Russ King hit safely to right field; and Gary Sample hit a long fly scoring Prond. King then made home on an overthrow from the right fielder. This proved to be the margin needed as King went the distance for the Chiefs, allowing five scattered hits while striking out eight. Frustrated the loss, although he allowed only one hit and struck out eleven, as his teammates made four errors. The Chiefs played near perfect ball in the field, making only one error and refusing to let the loss of the first game bother them.

Saturday, June 22, Negaunee will be at Manistique, for a return game scheduled to start at 3 p. m., and Sunday Marquette will play the Chiefs at Cardinal Field at 2 p. m.

Silk Organza
The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of ivory silk organza over taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice of all over lace, wide portrait neckline and short sleeves with scalloped lace trim. A matching train of organza and taffeta formed the back detail.

Her chapel veil of illusion net was secured by floral and seed pearl headpiece and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and roses. The bridal aides were attired in floor length gowns of pale yellow crepe styled with bateau necklines and three quarter length sleeves. Pale yellow net veils completed their attire and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow and white carnations.

Mother's Attire
Mrs. Poffenberger wore for her daughter's wedding a turquoise silk ensemble with white accessories and Mrs. Finlan chose an aqua crepe dress with matching lace coat and bone accessories. Both mothers were presented corsages of pink carnations.

The wedding breakfast was served at the Sherman Hotel following the ceremony followed by the reception. The rehearsal dinner was held Friday evening at the Dells Supper Club, and hosted by the bridegroom's parents.

After a wedding trip to Mackinac Island, the couple will reside in East Lansing. The bride is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Five Candidates File For County Treasurer

The field running for the Democratic nomination for county treasurer grew to five candidates today with more expected to file before the 4 p. m. deadline.

Announcing candidacy today were:

John D. Blanchette, 35, of Danforth; Anthony B. Marmalick Jr., 43, of 1207 Dakota Ave., Gladstone; Mrs. Glenn (Loretta) Matheson, 424 S. 16th St., Escanaba; George Minne, 61, of Rte. 1, Gladstone and Mrs. Alex (Helen) Sovey of Flat Rock.

County Clerk William E. Butler said he expected other candidates to file petitions before the deadline this afternoon.

The only announced Republican candidate for treasurer is Mrs. Leonard (Irene) Olson, 627 S. 17th St.

Party candidates for the November general election will be selected in the August 6 primary.

Blanchette, born in Wells, is the son of Mrs. Joseph Blanchette Sr. and the late Mr. Blanchette. He graduated from Escanaba High School in 1952 and served two years in the U. S. Army, spending 14 months in Korea.

He is married to the former Louise Ann (Torchy) LeBlanc of Escanaba and they have four children: Linda Louise, 11; John Jr., 10; Cynthia, 9 and Thomas, 8.

He is employed as an industrial engineer at Harnischfeger Corp. and is a member of St. Thomas Church of Escanaba.

Marmalick, a native of Rock, has been a resident of Gladstone for the past 33 years. He graduated from Gladstone High School in 1943 and then entered the U. S. Navy, serving three years with duty in the Pacific in World War II.

He was employed with the Soo Line Railroad Co. as a brakeman until last year when he left the company because of a disability.

Marmalick is married to the former Billie Heslop of Gladstone and they have six children: William, 16; James, 15; Toni-Jo, 14; Jeanne Anne, 10; Timothy, 6, and Beth, 3.

He is a member and past commander of August Matson Post 71, American Legion and also of the Gladstone Yacht Club and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Currently he is serving as legislative representative of B. of R. T. Local 103, Gladstone.

Matheson has been a resident of Escanaba for the past 20 years and is well-known for community service. She is active in the Democratic Women's Club and is a member of the Delta County Democratic Committee. This month she was a delegate to the State Democratic Convention.

A graduate of Escanaba High School, Mrs. Matheson also has attended Cloverland Commercial College and Bay de Noc Community College, studying business.

She married Glenn Matheson in 1942. He is employed as a mail carrier in Escanaba by the Post Office Dept. Mr. and Mrs. Matheson have two children: Lee, of Columbus, Ohio, and Gale, who will be a senior at Carthage College, Kenosha, Wis. this fall.

Mrs. Matheson was employed by J. C. Penney Co. for over three years and by Sears, Roebuck & Co. for more than five years. She also has been active in the 4-H Club program, taught Sunday School at Bethany Lutheran Church and was active in the Jefferson School PTA, serving two years as president and two more years as president of the PTA Council. She also was a member of the Escanaba Recreation Board, was a Den Mother in the Cub Scout program, and organized the Skilled Jills Home Extension group.

Minne, born in Belgium, came to Gladstone 60 years ago with his parents, residing in Gladstone until four years ago when he moved into a new house he constructed on the bluff.

A 1926 graduate of Gladstone high school, he joined the Post Office full-time after graduation and was employed as a mail carrier and clerk until his retirement about five years ago. During World War II he served 46 months in the Army Infantry, spending 15 months in India. He had attained the rank of 1st Lieutenant when he received his discharge.

Minne is a member of the American Legion, the Gladstone Golf Club, All Saints Church and the Holy Name Society. With the Legion he serves as U.P. finance officers.

He and his wife, Eusebia, are the parents of one daughter, Ann, a student at Michigan Tech University.

Mrs. Sovey has been a resident of Delta County all her life. She is the daughter of the late R. Earle Allingham and Lillian Biehler Allingham. A graduate of St. Joseph's High School, she also attended St. Anthony's School of Nursing, Rockford, Ill.

Mrs. Sovey has 15 years experience in bookkeeping and worked 17 years as information clerk at the U.P. State Fair. She also worked as an assistant teacher for retarded children, U.S. census taker in 1950, and as a supervisor for Delta and Menominee counties in the 1967 Civil Defense survey.

She has served as chairman of the Delta County Women's Club, vice president of Escanaba Aerie 1008 of the Eagles Auxiliary and has been active in women's bowling circles.

She was married March 5, 1946, to Alex Sovey. He has been employed by Mead Corp. for the past 21 years. Their family includes five children: Alex, James, Jeanne, Patrick and Donald.

Michigan Bell Free Exhibit

Michigan In Art Here Tomorrow

Great and colorful events out of Michigan's past will be brought dramatically to life in an exhibit or original oil paintings on the state's history.

The oil paintings, realistic in detail, will be displayed at the Escanaba Junior High School gym, 1500 Ludington St. Wednesday, June 19 through Thursday, June 27, under the sponsorship of the Delta County Historical Society. Hours will be 2-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m., daily, including Saturday and Sunday.

The canvases are the work of artist Robert A. Thom, of Birmingham, Mich., who was commissioned by the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., to do a series on "A History of Michigan in Paintings."

Since much of Michigan history can no longer be seen or photographed, many scenes must be reconstructed. Michigan Bell has felt that, by uniting the ability of a talented artist with the work of a noted historian, the history of the state can be dramatically and accurately portrayed... and be preserved as part of the tradition and heritage of Michigan citizens.

Artist Thom, a tireless researcher, was assisted by Professor F. Clever Bald, author of "Michigan in Four Centuries," and retired director of the Michigan Historical Collections at the University of Michigan.

The series includes pre-historic Michigan of 10,000 B.C., Indians, St. Louis on the Sault in 1671, Jolliet and Marquette, Cadillac, fur trappers, the Massacre at Michilimackinac, Americans take over Fort Mackinac in 1796, the Detroit fire of 1805, the Battle of Lake Erie, Cass' expedition of 1829, Stevens T. Mason, migration in 1836, the first railroad, copper strike at Houghton, logging, the new capital at Lansing, Harvey builds a Sault lock, 1860 schools, the Civil War, automobiles, World War II, Detroit's world seaport, Marquette's ore dock.

Mt. Stuart Fall Kills Detrouiter

ELLIENSBURG, Wash. (AP) — A University of California graduate student from Detroit, Douglas E. Merrill, 26, died Sunday after falling about 1,500 feet on Mt. Stuart in the Cascades 35 miles northwest of here.

Sheriff Bob Barret said Merrill slipped on a 45-degree snowfield and fell to rocks below while climbing Saturday afternoon at the 8,500-foot level with four companions.

A 20-man rescue party started up the 9,470-foot mountain Saturday night but Merrill had died of injuries by the time they reached him. An Air Force helicopter brought out the body.

Merrill, who was working toward his doctorate in geology at Berkeley, Calif., has been staying during the summer in Seattle with a brother, Dr. Ronald Merrill of the University of Washington faculty. His parents, Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Merrill, Detroit, also were visiting at the brother's home at the time of the accident.

Alger Delta To Hear Of Record

Alger Delta Cooperative Electric Association will hear at its annual membership meeting Wednesday in the new Gladstone High School gymnasium of record gains made in 1967. (Members are asked to use the 11th St. entrance to the gym.)

President Raymond Berger of Wilson will report to the membership on last year's activities, which included voting perpetuity for the cooperative utility, which was created in an initial charter granted in 1937 that provided only 30 years of life for the cooperative. The utility also applied for an additional $400,000 loan in 1967.

Manager Wynand Nieuwenkamp's annual report will show that the cooperative had its greatest growth in 1967. Killowatt hour sales increased by 1.2 million, or 8.8 per cent, to provide a gross income of a half million dollars. Of this the net margin assigned to membership was $32,000.

The membership is now 4,355, a gain of 163 over 1966 and the cooperative now has 1,056 miles of line in operation. It purchased 15.2 million kilowatts in 1967 and sold 13.1 million. Average full time consumer consumption last year was 427 kilowatt hours, up from 388 the year before, while the average billing was $13.28, compared with $12.62.

During 1967 the cooperative borrowed $134,060 and repaid $83,178, resulting in a debt increase of $50,881. Its borrowing from REA has totaled $2,871,158 and it has a net obligation of $2,039,968.

District meetings re-elected three directors and they will be affirmed at the annual meeting. They are A. J. Fleury, Big Bay; Edgar Williams of the Trenary-Rock - Perkins - Cornell - Rapid River District, and Lyle Wilson of the Stephenson District. The other directors are Eugene Sinner, Deerton; Arvo Kallio, Grand Marais; Vernon Peterson, Isabella; Iver Granskog, Stonington; Clifford Hayward, Inghamston, and Raymond Berger, Wilson.

Jean Worth, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, will address the membership in the afternoon on utilities and government.

College, Police Ask For Return Of Missing Items

Escanaba police and officials of Bay de Noc Community College have issued an appeal for the return of several items which were found missing at the college this morning.

Among the items missing are: an 18" simulated skeleton, rib cage painted blue; a 16m.m. film, "One Quarter Million Teenagers," a sex-education film borrowed from the Michigan Dept. of Health; a box of six stereo tapes concerned with high school level sex education; a video tape used on closed-circuit television entitled "Hypertension," borrowed from the medical network; a wine-colored film-strip projector belonging to the Dept. of Civil Defense, a white Harris & Marlow electric clock; two large World Book dictionaries; many pencils and pens.

Because replacement of these items would be expensive, persons knowing the whereabouts of the missing items are urged to contact police to arrange for their return to the college.

Services Held Monday For Richard Vincent

Richard Vincent, 40, of Sacramento, Calif., formerly of Stephenson, died Thursday in California. Services and burial were held on Monday.

He was the son of Mrs. Mary Vincent of Stephenson and the late Isadore Vincent.

Survivors include his mother; his widow, the former Loretta Johnson of Ingalls, Mich., five children and four brothers, Roy of Rte. 1 Gladstone, Ronald and Robert of Milwaukee and Keith of Stephenson.

Court Denies McClellan Order Against Dismissal

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Robert F. McClellan, a Northern Michigan University professor, has been denied an injunction in U.S. District Court that would have prohibited his dismissal pending trial of a damage suit filed by him against the university.

The damage suit has been set for trial at Marquette Aug. 5. U.S. Dist. Judge Thomas P. Thornton turned down late Monday McClellan's plea for injunction.

Poor Leaders In Seclusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The top leadership of the Poor People's Campaign were in seclusion today with aides insisting they do not know where the campaign command post shifted after vacating a Negro-owned motel.

While newsmen tried to locate the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the campaign, sponsoring Southern Christian Leadership Conference, demonstrators fanned out Monday to three government agencies and were rebuffed at all three.

A long-delayed mule train also arrived in the area in preparation for Wednesday's mass demonstration in support of the campaign.

Abernathy and other leaders of the campaign, who have been under fire from some demonstrators for not living at the Resurrection City shantytown near the Lincoln Memorial, checked out of the Pitts Motel Sunday and cancelled 28 of 30 rooms they had occupied.

Twenty-seven mules, four horses and 13 wagons that had started out from Marks, Miss., 36 days ago were unloaded from a freight train in suburban Alexandria, Va., Monday night, after a day-long trip from Atlanta.

They are scheduled to participate in Solidarity Day ceremonies Wednesday.

Peter Sandstrom Taken By Death

Peter Sandstrom, 85, died at 3:50 a. m. today at the Sloan Nursing Home where he had resided for nine years. Prior to residence there he had made his home in the Perkins and Brampton area.

He was born in Sweden, Aug. 3, 1882 and is survived by four nieces.

Friends may call at the Anderson-Johns Funeral Home in Gladstone from 4 to 9 p. m. Wednesday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 11 a. m. Thursday at the funeral home with the Rev. Karl J. Hammar officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Woman Held In Shooting Death

SAGINAW (AP) — Edward Clark, 27, of Saginaw, was shot to death Monday in his home. Police said Clark suffered a shotgun wound in the thigh and died from loss of blood.

Police are holding a 42-year-old woman for questioning in the death.

Prison Walkaway Sought By Police

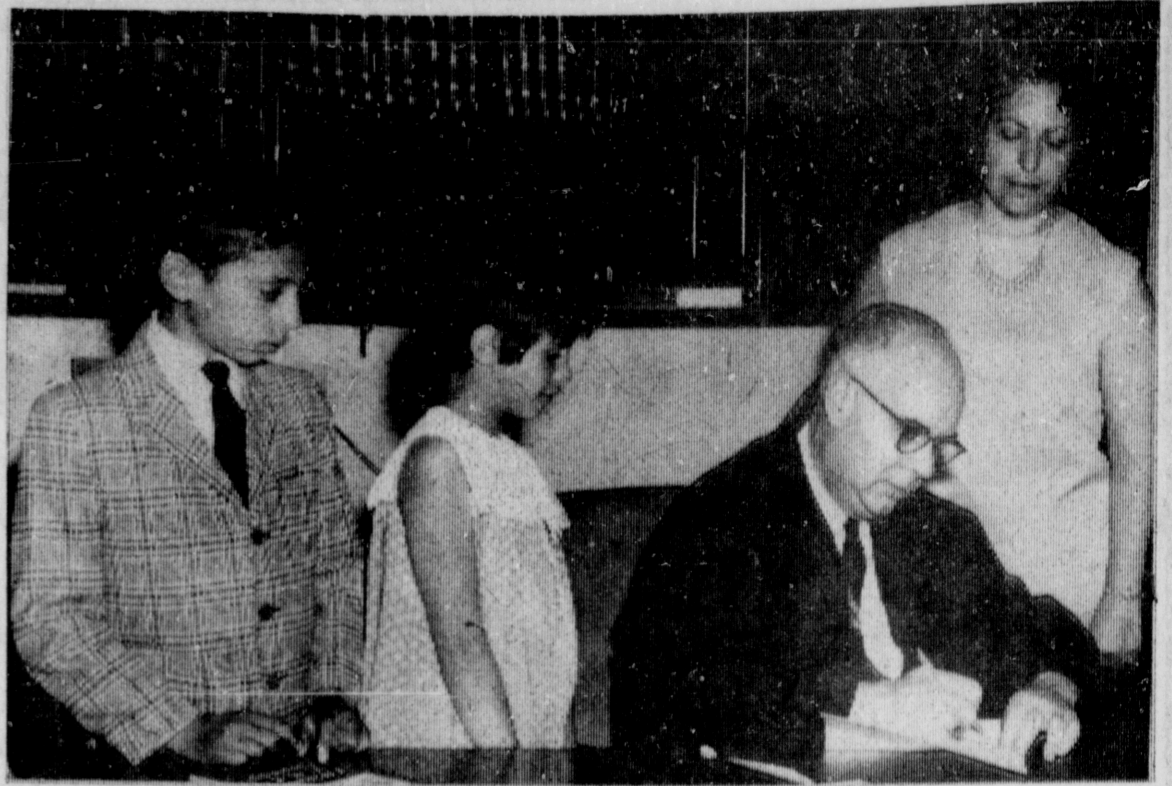

James A. Prestiedge, 24, was found missing at the Mangum Prison farm in the Marquette area last night, according to Escanaba police.

Prestiedge, serving 3-5 years for breaking and entering, is described by police as a white male, six feet tall, weighing 146 pounds. He has a ruddy complexion, blue eyes and brown hair.

Police said he was wearing prison clothing when last seen.

Building Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan State University has been awarded a $2,534,035 Public Health Service grant to assist in construction of a basic science building for a new two-year medical school.

FRED PAUL SAYKILLY, 10, and his sister, Micheline, 8, were granted citizenship in the United States by Judge Bernard H. Davidson in Circuit Court for Delta County. Judge Davidson signs the citizenship papers as Mrs. Saykilly, right looks on. The children were adopted from Lebanon by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Saykilly, 2435 Lake Shore Dr. They have been in the United States about six years. (Daily Press Photo)

Ten Residents Made Citizens

Ten residents of Delta and Marquette counties have been made naturalized citizens of the United States by Judge Bernard H. Davidson in Circuit Court.

The ceremonies were the first in Delta County in over 10 years, according to County Clerk William E. Butler, who explained that naturalization of citizens normally is held in Marquette but was shifted to Delta County because of an overload court schedule in Marquette County.

Judge Davidson is presiding over Circuit Court in the Delta County building this month.

Granted U.S. citizenship were James K. Lee, Isidro Lopez, Eiko Olson, Antoinette Bland, Toshi Gilbert, Fred and Micheline Saykilly, Sarah O'Donnell, Marie Root and Lydia M. Peterson.

Steel Imports Threaten Jobs In Iron Trade

MINNEAPOLIS—The American steel industry, a heavy user of labor, offers one of the more dramatic illustrations of what can happen when a domestic industry's wage structure gets pushed too far out of line with those prevailing in competing nations," Edward C. Logelin, vice president—Chicago, U.S. Steel, told the Minneapolis-St. Paul Rotary Clubs today.

Using Japan as an example, Logelin said differences in U.S. and Japanese steel employment costs for wage earners resulted in about a $40 per ton labor cost advantage for Japan, "an advantage not offset by higher cost of raw materials or higher costs of production facilities."

He said although American steel companies are spending heavily both for research and for upgrading their plants with the most advanced technology, "generally, such technology is so universally available to those who have the capital to acquire it that a technological 'leap forward' sufficient to overcome, say Japan's four to one hourly employment cost advantage, doesn't appear to be something right around the corner."

Market Captured
Logelin discussed the steel industry's major problem, gains in steel imports, which this year may take over 15 per cent of the U. S. domestic steel market.

Steel imports have already wiped out 85,000 job opportunities in steel making, equal to half of all manufacturing jobs in Minneapolis and St. Paul. The problem moves closer to the Upper Midwest, Logelin said, because "more than one-third of all steel imported into this country came through Great Lakes and border ports via the St. Lawrence Seaway." He said that Minnesota's own Port of Duluth steel is the most important import.

One Market
Logelin pointed out that in 1967 the value of steel imports exceeded steel exports by $900 million. He said prices of imported steel are so low that attempts by domestic producers to match them would be ruinous. In 1966, the "average difference between domestic and imported steel prices was more than four times the average of profit per ton of U. S. producers."

For Minnesota, Logelin said that while her taconite industry represented a billion dollar investment in Minnesota's future and her pellet plants have made Minnesota one of the steel industry's major pellet suppliers, "even our best quality pellets have only one use and that is to produce pig iron, with which to make steel." Thus, he concluded, "if Minnesota pellet production is to prosper so must its customer—the steel industry."

Axel G. Hammar Dies Monday In Marquette

Axel G. Hammar, twin brother of the Rev. Karl J. Hammar of Escanaba, died at the Morgan Heights Medicare Center, Marquette, Monday at 2 p.m.

He was born in Ishpeming, but spent most of his adult life at Hibbing, Minn., where he was employed by the Hanna Ore Mining Co. as a mine clerk.

He was a veteran of World War I, and a member of the American Legion Post, Hibbing, a member of the Order of Vasa and the Lutheran Church at Hibbing.

He is survived by his widow, three daughters and one son, two brothers, three sisters and several grandchildren.

Twilight services will be held at the Bjork-Sulkie Funeral Home at Ishpeming at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. The body of Axel G. Hammar will be returned to Hibbing on Thursday where interment will be in the family lot.

Houghton Court Trial Set For 1966 Murder

LAURIUM (AP) — Daniel Neuman, 23, of Dollar Bay, charged with murder in the Oct. 3, 1966 death of his father, was bound over to Houghton County Circuit Court Monday following examination before Justice of the Peace Reuben Rowe of Calumet.

Rowe moved the proceedings to nearby Laurium in the heart of the Upper Peninsula's Copper Country because there were too many witnesses for his quarters.

Neuman originally reported his father, William, 55, drowned when he fell from a dock on Portage Lake while the two men were taking photographs. The body was never recovered, but the case was reopened when two boys discovered a skeleton in the Dollar Bay Dump in April 1967.

Pathologists at the State Police crime laboratory at East Lansing identified the remains as those of the elder Neuman. His son was arrested last Monday.

Sheriff John Witanen of Houghton County testified that

Neuman changed his story after the body was found, saying he had scuffled with his father.

Witanen also told the court Neuman told a third story, stating the elder Neuman had committed suicide.

Dr. Donald Huelke, associate professor of anatomy at the University of Michigan, testified he was convinced that the remains found at the Dollar Bay dump were those of Neuman. He said x-rays of Neuman were compared with teeth, sinus cavity and hip bone of the human remains.

Lt. Charles Meyers, head of the State Police crime laboratory, testified an instrument of some kind may have been used to make an impression found in the skull. However, he said it was highly unlikely that the blow was caused by an iron bar found near the dump or a hatchet found in the trunk of Daniel Neuman's car.

Neuman was held without bond pending a trial date at the July session of the court.

Bando, Oakland Belt Birds

Sal Bando, suddenly found Baltimore pitching to be a soft touch and the Oakland Athletics are driving the battered Orioles to ground.

Bando, who drilled three hits and drove in three runs as Oakland completed a doubleheader sweep over Baltimore Sunday, beat the fading Orioles 3-2 Monday night with a two-out run-scoring single in the ninth inning.

The loss, fifth in a row for the second-place Orioles, dropped them eight games behind front-running Detroit—clear to the bottom of the American League than the top.

The A's, who have beaten Baltimore six times in their last seven meetings, moved into a fifth-place tie with Boston—9½ games off the pace.

Twins Win

Jim Fregosi's 12th-inning homer gave California a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees, the Chicago White Sox nipped Cleveland 3-1 on a two-run pinch triple by rookie Bill Voss and Minnesota downed Washington

4-1 behind southpaw Jim East in other AL games. The Tigers and Red Sox were idle.

Bando drove in Oakland's first run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning and scored in the fifth after poking a one-out single. Right-hander John "Blue Moon" Odom protected the 3-0 edge until the eighth, when the Orioles tied it on Don Buford's single. Fred Valentine's triple and Boog Powell's single off reliever Paul Lindblad.

With two out in the ninth, John Donaldson clipped Moe Drabowsky for a single, Rick Munday walked and Bando broke the deadlock with a single to right.

The husky third baseman, whose batting average dipped to .330 after an 8-for-4 collar in the first game of Sunday's twin bill, has since collected four singles and a double in eight trips to the plate for a .360 season mark.

Fregosi Homers

Fregosi led off the 12th with a homer off New York reliever Joe Verbanic, ending the Yankees' three-game winning string and overshadowing a brilliant pitching performance by the loser Stan Bahnsen.

Bahnsen held the Angels hitless until Bobby Knopp's double and a single by recently acquired Vic Davallio tied the game 1-1 in the sixth, and allowed only one more hit before leaving for a pinch hitter in the top of the 12th.

The Yankees pushed over a run in the sixth after filling the bases with none out against Jim McGlothlin, but shoddy baserunning cost them a bigger inning. McGlothlin worked out of another bases-loaded jam in the ninth before giving way to winner Minnie Rojas.

Voss, batting .140 going into the White Sox' game against Cleveland at Milwaukee, broke up a scoreless duel in the seventh inning with his two-run triple off Steve Hargan.

Winner Jack Fisher blanked the Indians until the ninth, when pinch hitter Willie Smith doubled home an unearned run before reliever Bob Locker nailed the victory.

Eighth Straight Loss

The setback ran Cleveland's losing streak to seven games, but still left the Indians in third place—8½ games out.

Kaat scattered eight hits and struck out seven as the Twins reeled off their fourth straight victory and extended Washington's winless streak to six games. Frank Quilici banged out a triple and double, scored one run and drove in another before Bob Allison's two-run homer in the eighth capped Minnesota's attack.

Palmer Through? Not So, Says Pros

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — "There's nothing wrong with Arnold Palmer that a little privacy won't cure," said South Africa's Gary Player. "This man is constantly bedegged on all sides."

"Everybody needs a chance to be quiet and concentrate." Player, a paid-up member of golf's big three which also includes Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, represents the sentiment of most of the touring golfers who scoff at suggestions that the great Arnie may be through as a factor in the game which he, more than any other person, helped build into a monstrous and mushrooming success.

The 1938 National Open championship, which ended last week-end over the Oak Hill course, was a frustrating and humiliating experience for the greenskeeper's son from La-Trobe, Pa., who became golf's all-time leading money winner.

Rounds of 73-74-79 placed him last among professionals in the field and on the final day he was assigned the last threesome with a pair of amateurs—a degrading spot for the highest scorers.

It was proper according to the U.S. Golf Association formula but it was demeaning nevertheless. He finished with 75-301, 26 strokes back of the winner, Lee Trevino.

"Temporary Slump"

"I think this is just a temporary slump," Player said. "He will snap out of it. But he must have a chance to relax and think. He has too much responsibility. People are after him all the time."

"Arnie is too much of a competitor to let this throw him," said former PGA champion Dave Marr. "He is young yet (38) and you can bet he'll be back."

"I think Palmer may be suffering more from his hip ailment than he lets on. He's that kind of guy. But I noticed his swing has gone off. He is spinning on his shots and hitting some balls fat. I think it's from favoring that hip."

Marr played the first two rounds with Palmer and Dan Sikes, another tour veteran.

"It's Palmer's putting," said Sikes. "His putting troubles have saturated his whole game. When you're not putting—and Arnie isn't—it wrecks your whole game. But I think it's just temporary."

Masters champion Bob Goalby agreed with Player, Marr and Sikes that it is ridiculous to hold a requiem for the game's greatest player of the last decade.

Missed Shots Trouble

"Palmer will win some more—a lot more," said Goalby. "He is too good a player to be counted out like this. He is a great driver. He is having his troubles on the greens but that should be temporary."

"Arnie is worrying too much. I think all great champions have had their slumps."

After skyrocketing to a 79 Saturday, Palmer told interviewers that he had become a perfectionist, that he was inclined to burn inside when he missed a shot and lose his concentration.

"You can't let stuff like that bug you," said former Masters titleholder Gay Brewer. "Arnie was never a perfect hitter of the ball, as is none of us. He hit some wild ones but he had the determination and power to recover. He has been a great asset to the game, and I think he has a lot of good years left."

Another pro added: "In his day, Palmer was the most fantastic putter in the world. He will get the ball into the hole. Now he's not doing that any more. He's just proved he's a mortal, but that doesn't mean he is through as a champion."

A single by Charley Gafner in the 13th inning drove home the winning run for the Teamsters Monday night in a 4-3 marathon victory over Floyd's Service.

The game was the longest of the year in the Escanaba Softball Association and the victory solidified Teamsters hold on second place in the American League.

Teamsters scored first, but Floyd's tied the game in the sixth inning. A two-run single by Sonny Bessonson gave Floyd's a 3-1 edge in the ninth, but the Teamsters tied the game in their half of the inning.

Bill Groleau pitched the distance for Teamsters. John Lark had three singles.

In the other game Monday, Bill Smith bested Joe Blahnik in a pitcher's duel as Flat Rock defeated Michigan Hotel 2-1.

The Escanaba Paper Mill team playing at Trenary Wednesday will leave from Memorial Field at 5:15 p.m.

Athletes Seek Olympic Berths

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—More than 700 athletes got their last chance to stay in the running for a U. S. Olympic track team spot Thursday and Friday at the National AAU championships.

The top six American finishers in each of 18 events—a total of 108—will go to the final tryouts the following weekend in Los Angeles. They will compete with more than 100 others already qualified through the NCAA, NAIA and interservice eliminations.

Nearly 100 who have qualified are expected to compete at Sacramento.

Among those who must qualify in this meet are four world record holders and co-holders in the 100 meters at 10 seconds —Willie Turner and Jim Hines. Randy Matson, the world record holder at 71-3/4 in the shot, resumes his battle with Neal Steinhauer, who put the shot 65-5/4 at this meet a year ago and has been inactive competitively while in the Army.

Pirates Lock Astros Into League Basement

By The Associated Press

What kind of host is it who locks his guests in the cellar?

The Houston Astros, who obviously overstayed their visit to Pittsburgh, have some idea today after the Pirates slammed the basement door on them.

The Pirates, stuck in the National League cellar themselves last Thursday, completed a five-game sweep of the Astros with a 4-3 victory Monday night that shoved Houston deep into last place.

Pittsburgh, tied for eighth place, still is not out of the shadows of the league, but six straight victories have let in at least a glimmer of light from above.

The Atlanta Braves also took a step up the stairs, moving into second place with a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati in the only other game played.

Los Angeles was rained out at Philadelphia.

Stargell Connects

The Pirates, the biggest disappointment in the league this season, started their series in Forbes Field against Houston only one game ahead of the Astros after climbing out of the cellar with a victory over San Francisco last Thursday. They kept Houston in the dark by outscoring them 34-8 in the five games, extending the Astros' losing string to six.

Willie Stargell supplied a big shove Monday night by slamming his 11th homer in the fifth inning to break a 3-3 deadlock. Reliever Roy Face gave the final push, striking out Jimmy Wynn with two on and two out in the ninth.

Others who joined in the attack on the visitors included Metty Alou, who staked Pittsburgh to a 3-0 lead with a bases-clearing double in the first inning, and Al McBean, who held off the Astros until Face arrived.

McBean raised his record to 6-5, beating Dave Glusti, 4-8, who singled in Houston's tying two runs in the fourth.

The victory, putting Pittsburgh six steps ahead of Houston, left the Pirates still eight games behind league-leading St. Louis, but only 3½ games behind the runner-up Braves.

Pass Glance

Atlanta needed an unearned run in the last of the ninth to beat the Reds and moved ahead of San Francisco by one percentage point, each 4½ lengths behind the Cardinals.

Felipe Alou started the winning rally with a two-out double off reliever Ted Abernathy, 1-1.

Felix Millan then bounced a grounder to the left of third baseman Tony Perez and it bounded off his glove and rolled behind second base as Alou scampered home.

Hank Aaron of the Braves and Reds' starter Jim Maloney traded earlier home runs and Millan and Pete Rose of Cincinnati singled in the other runs.

Tigers To Open Against Bosox

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, riding herd on the rest of the American League with an eight-game lead, open a three-game series with the defending champion Boston Red Sox tonight.

Earl Wilson, making his second start since being sidelined 20 days with a heel injury May 24, will oppose Boston's Jose Santiago.

The 20-year-old Cain appeared in eight games this year, compiling a 1-0 record 24 innings with a 3.00 earned run average.

General Manager Jim Campbell made no immediate move for a replacement. Manager Mayo Smith has been trying to make a deal for a power hitter, but so far has had no luck.

The team purchased right-relief pitcher John Wyatt from the New York Yankees last weekend. Wyatt was a mainstay in the Red Sox bullpen last year when they won the pennant.

Bando, Oakland Belt Birds

By The Associated Press
Sal Bando suddenly has found Baltimore pitching to be a soft touch and the Oakland Athletics are driving the battered Orioles to ground.
Bando, who drilled three hits and drove in three runs as Oakland completed a doubleheader sweep over Baltimore Sunday, beat the fading Orioles 3-2 Monday night with a two-out run-scoring single in the ninth inning.
The loss, fifth in a row for the second-place Orioles, dropped them eight games behind front-

Beban Inks No Cut Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gary Beban, UCLA's All-American quarterback and 1967 Heisman Trophy winner, doesn't expect to be an instant success in pro football.

"I think a rookie has to have an apprenticeship, like in any other business," Beban said.

Stanky Scoffs At Averages

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Manager Eddie Stanky could afford to scoff at the averages. His Chicago White Sox had just sent the Cleveland Indians down to a seventh straight defeat on a pinch triple by a .140 hitter.

"Averages mean nothing in this day and age," said Stanky, who sent rookie Bill Voss, .140 average and all, to the plate in place of Jerry McNertney in the seventh inning Monday night. Voss came through with a booming triple that drove in two runs and gave the White Sox a 2-1 victory over the reeling Tribe.

The game, the hird of the regular season for Chicago at Milwaukee, drew 28,081 fans — the largest of the "home" season for the Sox.

running Detroit—closer to the bottom of the American League than the top.

The A's, who have beaten Baltimore six times in their last seven meetings, moved into a fifth-place tie with Boston—9½ games off the pace.

Twins Win

Jim Fregosi's 12th-inning homer gave California a 2-1 victory over the New York Yankees, the Chicago White Sox nipped Cleveland 2-1 on a two-run pinch triple by rookie Bill Voss and Minnesota downed Washington

4-1 behind southpaw Jim Kaat in other AL games. The Tigers and Red Sox were idle.

Bando drove in Oakland's first run with a sacrifice fly in the first inning and scored in the sixth after poking a one-out single. Right-hander John "Blue Moon" Odom protected the 2-0 edge until the eighth, when the Orioles tied it on Don Buford's single. Fred Valentine's triple and Boog Powell's single off reliever Paul Lindblad.

With two out in the ninth, John Donaldson clipped Moe Drabowsky for a single, Rick

Monday walked and Bando broke the deadlock with a single to right.

The husky third baseman, whose batting average dipped to .238 after an 0-for-4 collar in the first game of Sunday's twin bill, has since collected four singles and a double in eight trips to the plate for a .250 season mark.

Fregosi Homers

Fregosi led off the 12th with a homer off New York reliever Joe Verbanic, ending the Yankees' three-game winning string and overshadowing a brilliant pitching performance by the losers' Stan Bahnsen.

Bahnsen held the Angels hitless until Bobby Knoop's double and a single by recently acquired Vic Davallillo tied the game 1-1 in the sixth, and allowed only one more hit before leaving for a pinch hitter in the top of the 12th.

The Yankees pushed over a run in the sixth after filling the bases with none out against Jim McGlothlin, but shoddy baserunning cost them a bigger inning. McGlothlin worked out of another bases-loaded jam in the ninth before giving way to winner Minnie Rojas.

Voss, batting .140 going into the White Sox' game against Cleveland at Milwaukee, broke up a scoreless duel in the seventh inning with his two-run triple off Steve Hargan.

Winner Jack Fisher blanked the Indians until the ninth, when pinch hitter Willie Smith doubled home an unearned run before reliever Bob Locker nailed the victory.

Eighth Straight Loss

The setback ran Cleveland's losing streak to seven games, but still left the Indians in third place—8½ games out.

Kaat scattered eight hits and struck out seven as the Twins reeled off their fourth straight victory and extended Washington's winless streak to six games. Frank Quilici banged out a triple and double, scored one run and drove in another before Bob Allison's two-run homer in the eighth capped Minnesota's attack.

Girl Scouts of Troop 7 enjoyed a trip to Mackinac Island Thursday. Leaders of the troop are Mrs. Clifford D'Arcy and Mrs. William Swenson.

Twenty-four girls made the trip in five cars, leaving Gladstone at 7 a. m. They had a smorgasbord at noon at the Grand Hotel, hiked around the island and managed to get time to do a little shopping before leaving for home. They stopped in Naubinway for supper.

Girls making the trip were Beth D'Arcy, Julie Gabrielson, Penny Jackovich, Cathy Markham, Cheryl Weeter, Ann Anglin, Diane D'Arcy, Michelle Jarvey, Mary Beth LaValle, Sarah Wolfe, Connie Amberg, May Beth Stairs, Lynn Johnson, Lori Nelson, Lori Stupak, Tammy Camps, Joan Peltonen, Cathy Erickson, Pam Erickson, Sharon Brady, Maria Bengsten, Susan Holmstrom, Betsy Kukanic and Trina Wolfe.

Accompanying Mrs. Swenson and driving cars were Mrs. Art Erickson, Mrs. Carl Backstrom, Mrs. Karen Weber and Mrs. Mai Gabrielson.

Trout Pond Is Found Neglected

Tell your neighbor that his trout pond is probably like most of those in Michigan—underfed.

Natural mortality takes most of the stocked trout, merely because the owner doesn't fish it enough.

"Only a small percentage of pond trout will live more than two years," according to Vernie Knudson, Michigan State University extension specialist.

"Start fishing the pond when the trout are seven or eight inches long," says Knudson, "and you'll get the greatest returns in the number of eating-size trout."

Three years after stocking, even without fishing, a pond will only contain a few large trout—and these will be difficult to catch.

"Fishing every three or four weeks isn't enough," says the Extension specialist, "unless the fishermen are unusually successful. Ponds should be fished often for maximum harvest."

Many pond owners stock trout and rarely take time to fish for them. This is where friends and neighbors can perform a service—by reminding the owner that during the first two years most trout will die unless caught. Maybe an invitation to help catch these fish will follow!

During the summer, trout will feed mostly in the mornings and evenings. Flies, spinners, lures, or natural baits are all recommended for catching them during their feeding periods.

Clean trout promptly after reeling them in, and freeze them in a milk carton full of water. They will retain their fresh taste for several months.

Calumet Youth Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three Michigan men have been killed in action in the Vietnam War, the Defense Department said Monday. A fourth died from noncombat injuries.

Killed in action were Army Sgt. Patrick B. Coppo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Coppo of Calumet; Marine Lance Cpl. Gerald E. Korson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Korson of Greenville; and Marine Pfc. Rickie J. Jacobs, son of Mrs. Murval A. Porch of Detroit.

Air Force T. Sgt. Royal C. Mank, husband of Mrs. Ellen L. A. Mank, K.I. Sawyer Air Force base, Mich., died of noncombat injuries.

Defense Work Spread Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense procurement was pictured Monday as concentrated among few firms, with small firms getting a thin slice, and with profits higher than in other government and private transactions.

It led Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., chairman of a Senate monopoly subcommittee looking into defense procurement, to comment that more competition could save up to $5 billion a year. Also, he said, it would "allay the fear that many hold of the so-called military-industrial complex."

The picture of a substantial degree of concentration of defense contracts among few firms was drawn by Murray Weidenbaum, professor of economics at Washington University, St. Louis, Mo.

He said 100 companies received two-thirds of the military contracts awarded in the 1966-67 fiscal year. He said 21 of the top 26 in 1966 were also in the top 25 in 1967. He did not identify the firms.

As for profits, Weidenbaum said the 1962-65 average profit return for a sampling of defense companies was 17.5 percent compared to 10.6 for a sampling of nondefense firms.

Weidenbaum listed six categories in which four or fewer firms hold more than 97 percent of all defense contracts. They included surveillance and detection satellites, nuclear submarines, space boosters, fighter aircraft, attack aircraft and missile internal - guidance systems.

U Of M Fields Opened To Young From Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan said today it will offer its playing fields and coaching staff to the City of Ann Arbor this summer for a unique youth sports clinic for 2,000 underprivileged children.

The program will augment the city's summer recreation offerings.

Baseball Coach Moby Benedict begins the program Monday with a week-long baseball clinic. This will be followed July 8-12 by a track clinic under the instruction of track coach Don Canham who becomes U-M's new athletic director this year, succeeding H.O. "Fritz" Crisler.

Basketball Coach Dave Strick will hold a five-day clinic July 15-19 and football coach Bump Elliott, assisted by four of his coaches, will conduct football drills Aug. 5-9.

The program will make use of the university's baseball field, practice football field, intramural building and five softball diamonds.

Hare Urges Police To Crack Down On Erring Drivers

LANSING (AP)—In an effort to reduce on traffic fatalities, Secretary of State James Hare Monday urged police to crack down on motorists who violate the law.

At least 917 persons have died in highway accidents this year, compared with 787 for the same period last year.

Hare noted that only 329,823 traffic violation convictions had been recorded during the first four months of this year. During the first four months of 1967, Hare said, a total of 347,927 convictions were reported.

"It's hoped that, with this rising death rate on our highways, the level of enforcement will begin to rise to a normal level again," Hare said.

Rocky Sticker Removed From Romney's Car

LANSING (AP) — Reporters did a doubletake Monday when they passed Gov. George Romney's official state car.

It sported a bumper sticker: "Win With Rockefeller For President."

Romney has declined to endorse either New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller or former Vice President Richard Nixon in the race for the GOP presidential nomination.

A quick check of the governor's office showed Romney hasn't changed his no-endorsement-yet attitude.

"Somebody stuck it on there after I had the car washed," said a member of the governor's State Police bodyguard detail.

The trooper quickly removed the sticker.

Blue Cross Asks Rate Increase

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross (Michigan Hospital Service) submitted an application for an average 2.18 per cent rate increase before the State Insurance Department.

John Hurth, department deputy director, said the percentage asked was on the regular rate for the average customer.

It would not affect senior citizens, he said.

LBJ Renews Berlin Backing

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson Monday called new Berlin border travel restrictions imposed by East Germany "totally unprovoked and unjustified aggravation."

In a message to German chancellor Kurt Kiesinger, the President declared that American "support of free Berlin and the goal of a German people united in peace remains as firm as ever."

East Germany recently enforced new curbs on civilian travel from West Germany, which has caused massive highway delays. The restrictions also include freight charges imposed for the first time.

The President's message to Kiesinger from the LBJ ranch was the first direct comment Johnson has made in connection with the latest flareup in East-West German relations.

Chancellor Kiesinger has denounced the East German action as "illegal" and "provocative."

Working in his ranch office, Johnson also sent Congress a supplemental budget request of $14.6 million for fiscal year 1968.

The President extended his weekend stay at the ranch after spending Father's Day boating and relaxing.
